

Union Issues Strike Call Against NAL

Walkout Is Set For Next Friday; Wage Dispute Is Cause

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 2 (UP)—A clerical employees union tonight called a strike against National Airlines (NAL) for 11:30 p.m. next Friday, and the big carrier said it would try to avoid suspending its service.

The Air Lines Agents Assn. (ALAA) said the deadline was determined by its executive council for "withdrawal from service of the agents and clerical employees of National Airlines." The departure of about 1,700 employees would affect National system-wide over its routes from Boston to Miami and Cuba, along the Atlantic seaboard and from Miami to Houston, Tex., along the Gulf Coast.

Victor J. Herbert, president of ALAA, said the union had made every effort to resolve its wage and contract difficulties with NAL in negotiations, mediation and an offer to go to arbitration.

"The company's failure to arbitrate leaves the work stoppage the only alternative," Herbert said.

J. M. Rosenthal, senior NAL vice president in charge of labor relations, said "we regret the officials of ALAA have dictated this drastic action. We know that this does not represent the attitude of the majority of our clerical and agent group."

"In behalf of all our employees and the public, we will make every effort to avoid being forced to suspend service."

NAL spokesman indicated the maintenance of service would depend on how many of its clerical force — agents, ticket sellers, reservation clerks — were idled by the strike.

Before the union's statement, Rosenthal was quoted as saying a strike would tie up service.

National Airlines serves communities which include Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Washington, Norfolk, Va., cities in Georgia and Florida, New Orleans and Houston.

The union asked for $55 a month raise and a one year contract. It said the company's offer was $10 to $40 and a three-year contract.

The union said it was opposed to company demands for making the employees probationary period six months instead of three months.

Withdrawal Of AF Tactical Forces Hinted

By VERN HAUGLAND
WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (UP)—A strong hint that the Air Force is planning a major withdrawal of tactical forces overseas and pruning of like forces at home came today from Gen. Thomas D. White, Air Force chief of staff.

In a talk to the Air Force Assn., White said there will be greater reliance in the future—in nonatomic fields—upon the air arms of America's allies, particularly in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

White presented the Air Force plans to the AFA convention in what he called a brief and generalized report on the occasion of his first formal appearance as staff chief.

He pointed out that as the Army develops its capability in atomic weapons, the need for close air support is reduced.

"We have pared the tactical air forces," he said. "We may have to pare them further."

Foreshadowing a considerable withdrawal of U.S. air units from Europe, White noted that Allied forces have had time to complete training, under assistance programs, and have been provided with "effective weapons."

"I think it logical that we recognize the military potential and good faith of our allies and plan accordingly," he said, adding: "U.S. duplication of Allied strengths will not advance the collective security."

It Was No Cat She Found Out

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 2 (UP)—Mrs. Mattie Sanders, 72, reached under her bed early this morning to stroke what she thought was her cat. She found she was patting a burglar's leg.

Mrs. Sanders yelled for her nephew, Chester Gilbert, 53, who grappled with the intruder but lost him. The man escaped with $400 in cash and checks which Mrs. Sanders had put in a strong box under her bed.

SLAPPED OWNER Says Eartha Poured Drinks On Customers

NEW YORK, Aug. 2 (UP)—A Third Avenue night club sued sultry Negro songstress Eartha Kitt for $200,000 today, charging she poured champagne on patrons and smashed glassware in a rage over a $137 bar check.

"This is a clip joint," Miss Kitt was quoted as saying as she allegedly began disporting herself in a boisterous manner.

Asked about the charges today, she acknowledged that she thought $137 was "a bit excessive" for "four or five spills of champagne." But she denied she ever flew into a rage over it.

The suit was filed by the E.J.H. Bar and Grill, operators of the African Room. The complaint charged that Miss Kitt and a party of 10 visited the club at about 1 a.m. June 5 and she soon made herself the center of attraction.

About an hour later, after she was presented with the bill, the suit said, she began to tear the place apart. Among the charges was one that she had slapped or punched Harold Kantor, one of the owners of the night club.

"Wish now I had," she said today.

Hughes Tool Co. Accused In Trust Suit

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (UP)—The government today accused Hughes Tool Co., Inc. of New York and Houston of conspiring with a German firm to restrain interstate and foreign commerce in oil and gas well drilling equipment.

The government, in a civil antitrust suit, filed in New York, said such restraint violates the Sherman anti-trust act.

The Justice Department asked the federal district court in New York to void the allegedly unlawful arrangements between Hughes and the Alfred Wirth and Co., in Erkelenz, Germany.

Illegal Contracts

The government contended that through unlawful contracts agreements and understandings, the two companies had come to the following understanding:

—Wirth, also a manufacturer of oil and gas well drilling, will not sell its products in the Western Hemisphere.

—Hughes and Wirth "shall pool their present and future patents and technical knowledge about tool joints and rock bits 'to the exclusion of others.'"

A Justice Department spokesman explained that this provision was mainly for the German firm's benefit.

Agree on Prices

The two companies agree on minimum prices to be charged by Wirth.

—Hughes will not sell its product in certain parts of the Eastern Hemisphere.

The Wirth Co. was named as a co-conspirator but not as a defendant since the U. S. government does not have authority to prosecute a foreign firm.

The government said the alleged offenses have eliminated price competition between the two firms on rock bits and tool joints, and has prevented imports of potentially competitive oil and gas well drilling equipment.

34-PROJECT PROGRAM

Almost 11 Miles Of Streets In Monroe To Be Improved

Almost 11 miles of streets in Monroe are in line for improvement under a 34 — project program now being conducted by the City of Monroe, it was announced yesterday.

W. D. H. Rodriguez, Commissioner of Streets, said that of the 10.91 miles of street improvement, 8.87 miles are under contract by the city.

The remaining 2.04 miles are being improved by private citizens under their own contracts, the commissioner said.

Rodriguez estimated it would take $25 to $30 million to conduct a major street improvement program, but pointed out that the projects now underway could not be classified as "major."

Most of the streets being repaired now are receiving gravel bases with asphalt surfacing, Rodriguez said, with a "very few" getting a concrete base.

Most Important
The widening of Pine street and North Second are the two most important projects, Rodriguez explained.

USSR Chilly Toward New Dulles Plan

West Offers To Open Countries For Inspection

LONDON, Aug. 2 (UP)—The West today offered to open all of the United States, Western Europe and Canada to Soviet air and ground inspection if Russia will permit the West to inspect all Soviet territory, satellites included. First Soviet reaction was chilly.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles personally presented the sweeping new "Open Skies" aerial inspection program for preventing surprise attack at the five-power London disarmament conference. It included original Soviet proposals for ground inspection.

Soviet Delegate Valerian Zorin was highly critical in his first comments on the broad plan which went far beyond any other proposal for insuring adherence to any disarmament agreement.

Dulles Leaves For Home
Speaking after Dulles at the one hour and 45-minute meeting, Zorin insisted that suspension of nuclear tests should take precedence over inspection. He condemned some features of the Dulles plan which all 15 NATO nations agreed on, but he promised to study it carefully.

Officials said Dulles considered Zorin's reaction "no more negative than expected."

No final Russian decision was expected on the program for several weeks. U. S. disarmament officials said the plan was to expand on the plan at the next conference session Tuesday. Dulles left for home aboard a U. S. Air Force transport after conferring with Stassen at planeside.

Surpasses The Plan

As outlined by Dulles, the plan offered Russia optional programs from a maximum, including all the home territory of all the countries involved, to a "more limited zone of inspection."

The plan went much further than that envisaged by President Eisenhower in his "Open Skies" proposal of July 21, 1955, at the Geneva summit conference.

The main proposal comprises all of Canada, the United States and Russia—with the inclusion of Canada—a major concession on the part of the West. Previous plans covered only Russian and United States territory.

"Accordion" System

Should Russia object to such a large area, the plan includes an "accordion" system for reducing the zone in size.

It could be reduced to a saucer-shaped area in the Arctic Circle covering sections of Canada, Alaska, Greenland, Northern Norway and Arctic Russia including part of the Kamchatka Peninsula.

Weather View Eased In Area

The weatherman eased up for today's weather outlook with only clear to partly cloudy skies and some thundershowers forecast for the Monroe area. Outdoor party-makers might suffer some disappointment with scattered showers in both Louisiana and Arkansas.

Little change in temperatures is expected. The high here yesterday was 95, low 73.

Explosion In Subway Train Injures 81

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 2 (UP)—An electrical explosion and fire in a crowded subway train today injured 81 passengers in which scores were cut by flying window glass.

Eighty-one persons were injured, none seriously, during the panic-filled seconds following the blast in the subway tube at the Erie Avenue station of the Broad Street subway.

The explosion occurred at 8:40 a.m. at the height of the morning rush hour.

Loud Blast

The six-car northbound train—jammed to the doors—was just pulling out of the station in North Philadelphia when the first of a series of loud blasts rocked the train.

The Philadelphia Transportation Co. said a grounded cable under the leading car caused the car's circuit breakers to "cut out" with several very loud reports. There also were electrical flashes and heavy smoke.

Some of the passengers panicked. A few took off their shoes to smash windows and climb out to the station platform. Women were screaming.

Missing Model Sought After Modeling Date

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 2 (UP)—A blonde model who specializes in pin-up poses was sought by police today after failing to return from a modeling date.

Missing is Judy Ann Van Horn Dull, 19, who lives with two other models in an apartment here.

Sheriff's Sgt. Dave Ostraff said detectives have listed the case as "missing person, possibly kidnap."

Mrs. Dull, who is estranged from her husband, Robert L. Dull of La Crescenta, left her apartment at 2:30 p.m. yesterday with a man who gave his name as Johnny Glynn, a roommate.

Betty Carver, 18, told detectives the man identified himself as a professional photographer.

Elderly Couple Killed In Wreck

KROTZ SPRINGS, Aug. 2 (UP)—An elderly couple died early today after a head-on collision with a car trying to pass a truck on U.S. 190 about a mile west of Krotz Springs.

Weston Stelly, 24, of Arnaudville, driver of the other car, was charged with negligent homicide, state police said.

VOTE NEXT WEEK

Work Finished On Rights Bill

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (UP)—The Senate, after four weeks of debate, finished work today on its watered-down version of President Eisenhower's civil rights bill. It put off a final vote until next week.

The Senate wound up work on the measure hours after the President described as "bitterly disappointing" the Senate's action in adding a jury trial proviso to the bill. He said it was a threat to the judicial system.

After acting on a series of minor amendments, the Senate took the parliamentary step of having all further changes in the bill—prelude to final passage. But it decided to hold off the vote until next week.

Hoffa Linked To Sweetheart Contracts

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (UP)—Senate investigators heard testimony today linking Teamsters leader James R. Hoffa and racketeer Johnny Dio with "sweetheart" contracts designed to exploit low-paid Negro and Puerto Rican workers in New York.

A member of one local organized by Dio testified that the workers once went on strike against the union itself to get a five-cent raise.

The witness, Bertha Nunez, a native of Honduras, told the Senate Rackets Committee the employees of an electric appliance maker got a raise from $36 to $38 a week when the union moved in.

Tells Of Firings

But she said they had to pay $15 or more in initiation fees and $1 a week in dues. Then, she said, workers would frequently be fired so the union could collect more initiation fees from their replacements.

Other examples of what he called "fantastic" exploitation by crooked unions and crooked employers were given by John McNiff, executive secretary of the Association of Catholic Trade Unionists.

McNiff said alliances made by Hoffa, Dio and "the mob" threaten to rob a million New York workers of honest unionism. He said it was standard procedure for a racket-ridden union to sign up an employer who wanted to keep out legitimate unions.

Names 22 Locals

He said these contracts usually provided wages only a few cents over the legal minimum of $1 an hour and that workers were forced to accept them or be fired.

McNiff named 22 locals of unions as "a partial list of unions cooperating with companies to exploit the Puerto Rican workers and other unskilled or semi-skilled workers."

Jes' Ramblin'

The Jaycees are quite delighted that they have secured as new member, Gene Ridings, who a short time ago came from Houston, Texas to live in the Twin Cities. But he seems well pleased with his new surroundings. He is salesman for a well known local company.

He received his college education at Texas University where he was graduated with the class of 1951 and thereafter spent four years in USMC. He is father of three interesting youngsters and strangely enough all were born on the same day of the same month, which is December 20. Seems like they will always have a double observance of Christmas. Gene's chief sport is golfing and few dare to try to match his prowess with a golf stick.

Word has just come to the effect that the Rev. and Mrs. L. T. Hastings will arrive in Monroe on Tuesday, August 6 for a short stay and they will desire to meet all possible friends while here. The last time they came was several years ago and they found Monroe so changed they felt like local company.

Reducing Pills No Way To Lose Weight—Diet

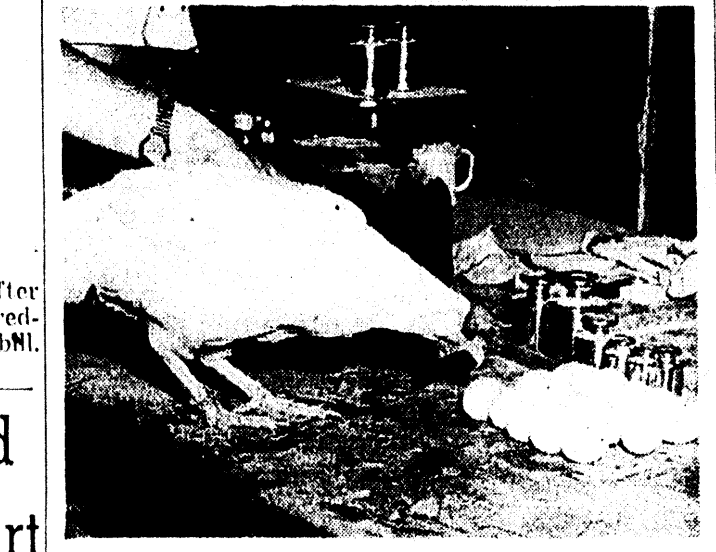

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (UP)—Members of a House subcommittee munched on reducing pills today while being told that was not the way to lose weight.

Neither pills nor massage nor exercise can stay calories from making extra pounds, said Dr. S. William Kalb.

Kalb, a Newark, N. J., nutritionist, gave the congressmen the hard advice that the only way to tighten the belt was to go on a diet. He testified before a House Government Operations subcommittee which opened an investigation of false or misleading advertising for overweight remedies.

Concerned
Chairman John A. Blatnik (D-Minn.) said the group was concerned particularly about "dietless reducing schemes" which he called "the most widely promoted medical fraud today."

As for exercise, he said, a person would have to walk 33 miles at a brisk pace to lose one pound. He said women were "great suckers for this massage business" but that was useless also.

I CAN DO BETTER THAN THAT!—Lucy, the two-year-old Leghorn who startled the feathered world last week by laying 17 eggs in five days, looks rather disdainfully at a mere 15 eggs laid out before her at Rutgers University. Dr. Paul Sturkie, poultry physiologist, is studying Lucy's feat but as yet Lucy hasn't cooperated—she hasn't produced another egg since her greatest effort. ## Gov't Announces $500-Million Soil Bank Plan

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP)—The Agriculture Department today announced a 500-million-dollar soil bank program for 1958 carrying a new regulation designed to tighten curbs on surplus crop production.

Under the major acreage reserve phase of the program, which has been in effect for the 1956 and 1957 crops, the department makes payments to farmers for planting less than their allotted acres of such surplus crops as cotton, wheat, corn, rice and tobacco.

Mother, Child Forced Out Of Haunted House

TULSA, Okla., Aug. 2 (UP)—Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Wilkinson and their 12-year-old daughter packed their belongings today and moved out of the house they claim is "haunted" by an electrical phenomenon.

"I'm about to crack up," Mrs. Wilkinson said. "I wish someone would come forward and tell us what's causing all this."

The family thought its troubles had ended yesterday after Wilkinson, an oil company employee, dug up water pipes around the house and removed a new metal fence he believed responsible for creating a magnetic field.

The family slept in the car last night after tables and chairs went on a weird dance and overturned course through the house.

The mystery has damaged their $1,200 electric organ, caused the refrigerator motor to break down twice and knocked the clock from its shelf six times.

Wilkinson said he had lived on the property for 23 years without prior incident — until this month.

"We don't know if this is a magnetic field, uranium, an old gas pocket under the ground, or what," said Wilkinson, "but it has us completely unnerved and so upset we can't live a normal life here. We're moving."

Provisions

Financial provisions for the program were contained in an Agriculture Department appropriation bill belatedly passed by Congress yesterday.

Farmers who agree to retire land from these crops will be required to limit their total harvested acreage of all crops. Those who fail to abide by such agreements would lose payments and be subject to "civil penalties" equal to half the payment they otherwise would have earned.

The requirement, set up for the first time, is designed to prevent shifting of land from the major surplus crops to other crops—a practice which, if continued, would create other surpluses and add to the total over-supply of farm products, the department said.

Undersecretary of Agriculture

True D. Morse said the new regulation should increase the effectiveness of the soil bank plan.

The department announced that of the half billion dollars provided for the acreage reserve, 178 million dollars will be allotted for payments for retiring wheat land. Under this year's program commitments were made for wheat

Charge U.S. Ambassador With Meddling

HAVANA, Cuba, Aug. 2 (UP)—Government troops clashed with rebel forces in two new outbreaks in Oriente province in eastern Cuba, killing 13 rebels and two government soldiers, Cuban army headquarters reported tonight.

The army said four other government soldiers were wounded in the fighting and an unspecified number of rebels taken prisoner.

Army communiques said the latest encounters with elements of the rebel force headed by Fidel Castro took place at Bueycito and Peladero near the Sierra Maestra Mountains where the insurgents have been entrenched for months.

Rosell Asks Withdrawal

Meaning, Sen. Ernesto Rosell, acting on behalf of the government majority, introduced a resolution in Congress today asking for the withdrawal of U.S. Ambassador Earl E. T. Smith on grounds he had meddled in Cuba's internal affairs and had become a "disturbing agent."

There has been a growing outcry against Smith in the pro-government press since he visited the Oriente province city of Santiago, both of anti-government activity.

An army statement said the first clash occurred early Thursday when the rural guard outpost at Bueycito was attacked by a rebel force. The rebels were repulsed and put to flight," the statement said. Three rebels and two soldiers were killed and three other soldiers wounded in the clash, the army said.

A second clash, apparently an aftermath of the first, occurred at Peladero to the south of the Sierra Maestas. A second communist said 10 rebels were killed and "prisoners taken." One soldier was wounded.

Rebels Burn Buildings

The army said the rebels burned two buildings before retreating. The communiques said army troops seized large quantities of rebel food and medicine hidden in a cave.

Accusation Is Surprise, Says Mayor Morrison

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 2 (UP)—Mayor deLesseps Morrison today expressed surprise that former state police Supt. Francis Grevenberg "has opinions" about the mayor's relationship with his own police superintendent.

Morrison's comment came after the former state police head accused him of "making a goat of" New Orleans police Supt. Provosty Dayries, now under investigation by the parish grand jury.

Grevenberg, who became nationally known for his fight against gambling, appeared before the grand jury, he said, "to help Dayries, not to hurt him."

Morrison said the surprise stemmed from the fact that "I believe he (Grevenberg) has been in Baton Rouge for the last six years . . ."

Opinion Contrary

Grevenberg's opinion about the Morrison — Dayries relationship, Morrison said, "is certainly contrary to Mr. Dayries' opinion and my own."

The former state police head, Morrison said, "has falsely criticized me for years, and ran against me for governor in the last gubernatorial campaign. He received eight per cent of the votes and I received 24 per cent."

"Neither of us did too well, but I do believe the people have more respect and faith in my statements than they did his."

Morrison said New Orleans had done a better job, as far as enforcement was concerned, than (Continued On Page Five-A)

Churchmen Protest Plan To Bring Group Into WCC

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 2 (AP)—Eastern Orthodox churchmen charged today that a plan to bring a Protestant-run missionary arm into the World Council of Churches would disrupt the Christian unity movement.

Soviets Say West Wants Talks Halted

MOSCOW, Aug. 2 (AP)—A Soviet spokesman charged tonight that the West, by pledging to reject any disarmament agreement which would hinder the reunification of Germany, was attempting to break up the London arms talks.

Leonid Ilyichev, the spokesman, called a news conference at the Foreign Ministry to tongue-lash the Berlin declaration signed last Monday by the United States, Britain, France and West Germany. The three Western Powers said in that declaration they would sign no disarmament agreement that would "prejudice the reunification of Germany." Reunification, they said, could only be brought about by free, all-German elections.

Fears Zone
They thus assured Germans there was no danger the West, in talks within the U.N. Disarmament subcommittee in London, would agree to any neutral or demilitarized zone in Europe which would center on the present line dividing Germany. West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer fears such a zone, which has been proposed by Russia, would perpetuate Germany's division.

Ilyichev said the Berlin declaration was an effort to make political propaganda for Adenauer before the West German elections.

Voices Support
In contrast to the Western position on free, all-German elections, he repeated the Soviet position that reunification can only be brought about through direct negotiations between East and West Germany, and voiced support for the East German suggestion of a federation by the two German governments.

Ilyichev said the Berlin declaration was based on "the false thesis that the German problem is the main cause of international tension today."

Forceps Death Is Ruled As Accidental

CHICAGO, Aug. 2 (AP)—A coroner's jury today returned a verdict of "accidental" in the death of Joseph Olson, without determining how a pair of surgical forceps found in his body got there.

Olson, 59, died July 24 in Woodlawn Hospital on the South Side where he had gone for treatment, complaining of "gas pains." He had been operated on at the same hospital June 28 for relief of adhesions resulting from an earlier operation.

The jury ruled the death was caused by arterio-sclerotic heart disease "and a foreign body in the abdomen" but declared evidence concerning the forceps was "hearsay."

Dr. Francis A. Archer, a pathologist, said he found the forceps in Olson's small intestine during an autopsy.

Dr. Edward Goldberg, who helped perform the operation for adhesions, said the instrument could not have been left in Olson's body during the operation. "The site of the operation was so limited that it was impossible for them to have been left," he said.

Olson's wife, Doris, 60, testified her husband, a carpenter, suffered from "gas pains" after the June 28th operation.

"endanger the whole ecumenical movement."

The clash came over a proposal to make the international Missionary Council, a federation of national and regional Protestant groups a part of the World Council.

Archbishop Michael, of New York, the bearded brotherly primate of Greek Orthodoxy in North and South America, led off the protest, saying his church didn't intend to become part of such missionary work.

The World Council is made up of 165 Protestant and Orthodox denominations in 50 countries.

It has not previously attempted any joint missionary work—which involves winning converts to one church or another.

Eastern Orthodoxy, like Roman Catholicism, holds it is the only true church. The schism between the two came in the 11th century over the Bishop of Rome's claim to supremacy.

On the other hand, most of Protestantism grew out of a break with the Roman Catholic Church in the Reformation of the 16th century.

It was learned that the ecumenical patriarchate in Istanbul, spiritual center of all Orthodoxy, had sent instructions to representatives at the World Council meeting here to oppose the new plan.

Father Florovsky, of Harvard Divinity School, asked by a newsmen if he thought approval of the move might cause the Orthodox churches to withdraw from the council, said: "It will create a problem. What the outcome will be, I don't know."

The proposal was referred to a subcommittee at the meeting here of the World Council's interim policymaking body, to be brought back to the floor later.

If this meeting approved the plan, it still would have to be submitted to each member of both the World Council and the IMC before a final decision by their world assemblies.

This would take at least until 1960. Orthodox churches, in first joining the World Council when it was formed in 1948, made clear that they did so with the understanding its program would not be predominantly Protestant, Western or Anglo-Saxon.

$46,408,192 Tagged For Super Road

WASHINGTON (Special)—Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks yesterday announced appropriations totaling $46,408,192 for the federal highway program in Louisiana in fiscal 1958. The appropriations are part of a total of $2,675,000,000 in federal funds to be distributed for the super highway program in the 48 states. Louisiana's appropriation will be broken down as follows: Interstate highway system, $32,664,124; primary highway system, $6,096,580; secondary or feeder roads, $4,188,259; urban highways, $3,209,229.

RAF Planes Hit Rebels Hardest Blow Of Conflict

MANAMA, Bahrain, Aug. 2 (AP)—The British today announced their biggest air strike against Omani rebel tribesmen. The Royal Air Force said tents and huts around a mud fort at Farq and the fort tower and barracks at Nizwa were hit by low-flying jet planes yesterday.

The RAF also said it has cut out probably three vehicles the road equipment of the tribesmen fighting the pro-British Sultan of Muscat and Oman. The air force began a campaign four days ago to smash any traffic movement and prevent outside arms from reaching the rebels.

The announcements coincided with a Foreign Office statement in London that the rebels now are beaten.

payments totaling 231 million dollars. The amounts to be allotted for other crops will be announced later.

To limit shifting of land from one set of crops to another, the department will set up what it calls a "soil bank base" for participating farms. Generally speaking, the base will be the total of the average of all crops, except hay, harvested on the farm in 1956 and 1957.

To be eligible for a payment, a farmer would have to limit his total harvested acres to the amount of his base minus the number of acres he agreed to retire from production.

IN WEST MONROE

Freak Accident Causes Injury To One; 8 Unhurt

A freak accident in front of the Pelican Club in West Monroe at 10 last night hospitalized one man. Eight other persons involved in the four-car smashup escaped injury.

Taken to St. Francis hospital by Kip Patrick ambulance was Harry Lawson, 629 Olive street, West Monroe, and employee of the Club, who was pinned between two cars in the wreck.

The chain of smash-ups started as Roosevelt Finley, Negro, of Route 3, Rayville, driving west on Ridge Drive, failed to yield the right of way to another auto driven by Oliver Wilhite, Route 1, Downsview, who was heading south on Jewell street.

The two autos collided, and the force of the impact spun the Wilhite car around, smashing in the entire left front, and forcing the hood and fenders up and sideways. Neither Wilhite, his wife nor a passenger, were injured.

Goes Across Road

After the smash-up, the Finley car continued across the road and crashed into the left front of a car parked in front of the Pelican Club. Maudine Thornhill, of 700 Wood street, West Monroe, who was sitting in the driver's seat, and another woman sitting on the right side of the car, were talking to Lawson, who was standing by the right side of the auto.

When the Finley auto hit the Thornhill car, it pushed it and Lawson several feet, until the Thornhill auto slammed into a parked, unattended car. Lawson was pinned between the two cars, and suffered a back injury.

The Finley car was damaged on the right front and side, and it pushed in the left hand side of the Thornhill vehicle. The two women and a child sleeping in the back of the car were unable to get out either door until a wrecker pulled the Finley car away.

Neither Finley nor another Negro riding with him were hurt. State Police from Troop F investigated the accident.

Four Killed In French 'Copter' Crash In Alps

CHAMONIX, France, Aug. 2 (AP)—A French police helicopter caught by high winds while on rescue work today crashed into an Alpine peak. It exploded and burned, killing all four occupants, more than 10,000 feet over the sea of ice in the Mont Blanc range.

The mountain-climbing victim was a tourist whose body had been taken to the Envers-de-Balliere refuge hut by the ground rescuers.

Zermatt, in Switzerland, reported the probable death of two more mountain climbers sealing the Geiger, a glacier spotter pilot, said he saw two fall down the 4,000-foot north face to the rocks below.

Earlier in the day, Swiss guides found the body of a lone English climber, Albert Parker Lester, 40, who disappeared on the M. Fernhorn this week.

Okays Divine Guidance In Raise Dispute

BALTIMORE, Aug. 2 (AP)—Postmaster William F. Laukaitis said today he had no objection to Baltimore postmen asking divine guidance to help them get a pay raise from the government.

He made the comment after carriers from the Hamilton branch attended a prayer meeting on a matter of proposed pay increases now pending in the Senate.

"If they want to pray, it's all right with me," Laukaitis said. "I'll pray right along with them."

He added that he did not feel it would be right for him to start a mass movement in that direction.

Postmen across the country have been attending prayer meetings over the proposed raise. The largest was in Minneapolis, where 1,000 carriers gathered in Pioneer Square.

BY GOVERNMENT

Program To Limit Crude Oil Imports Launched

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (UP)—The government launched its voluntary program to limit crude oil imports today by sending telegrams to 22 oil companies requesting assurances they would cooperate in the program. Navy Capt. M. V. Carson Jr. heads the program.

He told them "your cooperation is essential if such a voluntary program is to succeed and thus render consideration of other means unnecessary." Carson urged the companies to reply as soon as possible.

President Eisenhower announced the program earlier this week. He said then that quotas would be imposed on oil imports if the voluntary system did not work.

Act Deemed Necessary

The administration said the action was necessary to "insure a proper balance between imports and domestic production" and to make sure "we are to have enough oil to meet our national security needs" in case of war.

Big importers east of the Rockies will be asked to cut their imports 10 per cent below the 1954-56 average for the 12 months ending June 30, 1956. That would leave imports of 1,031,000 barrels of crude a day.

Imports now are averaging 1,275,000 barrels a day and the new plan represents a 20 per cent cutback from this level.

No Immediate Limit

The scaled-down total includes 275,000 barrels a day for the Pacific Coast. However, there would be no limitation on West Coast imports at the present time.

The president's announcement caused somewhat of a stir in Congress. It received lukewarm praise from oil state congressmen but many senators and representatives complained it would cause a hike in gasoline and oil prices.

Eisenhower at weekly news conference said the limitations were designed to help small local producers. He said "it isn't a question of trying to help big oil companies."

Carson said he believed the volunteer program would work. The companies, he said, would recognize the importance of the program to national security.

Senate Gives SBA A Year's Lease On Life

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP)—Legislation reviving the Small Business Administration and giving it another year's lease on life was hurried through the Senate and House today and sent to President Eisenhower.

Technically the SBA expired at midnight July 31 when a bill authorizing its continued existence got backed up behind the Senate civil rights debate. Since then the agency has been unable to make loans to small businessmen or transact other affairs.

In addition to extending the agency for another year, the bill passed today gives SBA 75 million dollars in new lending funds, increasing its total to 530 million.

The Senate agreed by unanimous consent to lay aside the civil rights bill for one hour to dispose of the SBA extender. Despite the time limitation, nearly a score of senators arose to praise the agency before the extension bill was passed by unanimous vote.

The measure than was sped to the House, which previously had approved permanent status for the SBA. The House accepted the Senate version and sent the bill to the White House for Eisenhower's expected signature.

Most of the senators speaking in favor of the agency said they also would like to see it have permanent status.

In addition to making loans to small businessmen, the SBA helps them share in government contracts and administers national disaster programs.

Sens. Morse (D-Ore.) and Langer (R-Ind.) were critical of the agency. Morse said SBA Administrator Wendell Barnes "is not doing a satisfactory job" in the loan department.

In stead of adhering so closely to regular banking terms, Morse said, SBA should make more loans that "are not particularly good business risks" from a strictly banker's viewpoint.

Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.) suggested that Congress rather than Barnes was responsible for difficulties encountered by businessmen in obtaining SBA loans.

Refrigeration Technique Is Aid To Brain Injury Victims

LOUISVILLE, Ky., (AP)—Ten months ago, 15-year-old Richard Burgin was involved in an automobile accident. For 28 days he lay unconscious. His condition: critical because of severe head injuries. His chances: very slim.

Richard isn't well yet. But he's alive. And his mother, Mrs. Margie Ree Burgin, thanks God he is.

Richard, like nearly a score of other Louisvillians, owes his life to an experimental process which originally was used only for heart patients. He was "refrigerated."

Louisville doctors believe the prolonged use of hypothermia—or "artificial hibernation"—is setting a precedent. The results are spectacular.

Physicians say the normal death rate in cases similar to those being treated by hypothermia is about 75 per cent. With hypothermia, a death rate of only 25 per cent has been recorded.

The process involves the dropping of the body temperature from 98.6 degrees—or normal—to 86 degrees with the help of a refrigerating "blanket" and the injection of drugs.

The effect on the body is to lower blood flow to the brain, reducing the need for oxygen and slowing down all the body's processes.

A swelling in an injured brain thus is lessened, lowering pressure inside the skull. The result is less damage to the brain cells.

The drugs are injected to reduce the "fight" the body puts up against refrigeration. It takes the body from 2 1/2 to three hours to reach 86 degrees where the temperature is too high for heart irregularities and too low for shivering.

Hypothermia is continued from three to 11 days, depending upon the specific case. Sometimes surgery precedes it, usually to relieve pressure from intercranial bleeding.

A dramatic case history which illustrates the effectiveness of the process came after a 12-year-old boy fell from a 15-foot viaduct and landed on his head on a concrete street. Nine days later he responded to his name. Now he is all but normal.

Doctors said of this case: "We have been unable to learn of another patient injured to this extent... who survived."

Youth Charged With Robbery After Slaying

BATON ROUGE, Aug. 2 (UP)—Herbert Ray Mears, one of two teen-agers acquitted last Saturday in the slaying of Marion O. Durbin will face charges of robbing and beating Durbin Sept. 5 in family court.

The 17-year-old Mears' parents posted $3,000 bond yesterday on the charges of simple robbery, theft and battery and he was released in their custody. Mears was 16 at the time of the incident.

William S. Rowan, 18, also was charged in district court with simple robbery and theft Monday by Durbin's father, Andrew C. Durbin.

Rowan and Mears were found innocent of murder charges after a lurid six-day trial that brought testimony of a teen-age sport of hunting homosexuals to extort money.

During the trial, they admitted robbing the 30-year-old sewing center manager of $48 and other valuables.

Durbin's body, robbed and beaten, was found last Dec. 22 in his locked car. A coroner's jury said he died of strangulation due to "aspirated vomitus."

One Killed, 3 Injured When Pickup Wrecks

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 2 (AP)—A Coast Guardsman was killed and three of his companions slightly injured when their pickup truck overturned while rounding a curve on Brigantine Boulevard today.

All, including a fifth Guardsman who escaped apparent injury, were assigned to the Atlantic City Coast Guard Station.

Attendants at Atlantic City Hospital identified the dead Guardsman as Yoeman 2, C Leonard Leenherr, 19 of Chicago.

Police said the driver of the truck was Yoeman 2, C John A. Arrington, 22, 7512 Henderson Ave., Shreveport, La. He was not reported hurt.

Disease Plague Presents Food Problem In Okla.

VINITA, Okla., Aug. 2 (UP)—Gov. Raymond Gary moved today to obtain surplus foods for northeastern Oklahoma Farmers and ranchers who are suffering from the effects of a serious anthrax outbreak.

The deadly livestock disease has killed about 200 animals in Craig and Ottawa counties, most of them in Craig county.

Gary said the United States Department of Agriculture offered "expert advice" but no financial aid. He said he asked State Welfare Director L. E. Rader to see "if we can't give these people some surplus foods."

"I don't want it to be in the form of charity but in repayment for losses due to the quarantine," the governor said.

All of Craig county and 60 square miles of adjoining Ottawa county are under quarantine.

Dr. L. C. Crow, federal veterinarian, said it is the worst anthrax outbreak in the United States in 25 or 30 years.

Gary said many families need food because they are having to throw out eggs, meat and milk.

Dr. M. N. Riemenschneider, Oklahoma state veterinarian, said every effort was being made to bring safe dairy products out of the quarantined area.

Disaster in Doses
The quarantine prevents farmers and ranchers from marketing any livestock or dairy products. Law enforcement officers manned roadblocks to enforce it.

The economic loss was expected to be heavy.

George Foust, who operates a ranch with his son on two sections in Craig and Ottawa counties, said, "I thought it was bad when I lost my wheat crop because of wet weather. If I had never put a grain of seed into the ground I would be $30,000 ahead. Now, anthrax."

Meeting On Fire Insurance Rates Schedule Set Here

Details of the new reduced fire insurance rates in the City of Monroe will be worked out here at a meeting scheduled for August 6, it was revealed yesterday by Ouachita Parish Representative Lawrence Gibbs.

Gibbs said that he had received a letter from Carl J. Schumacher, Jr., representative of Rufus Hayes, state insurance commissioner saying that the Louisiana Rating and Fire Prevention Bureau would be promulgating the uniform grading schedule in Monroe in the near future.

"It appears the schedule will be ready to be put into effect sometime during the second week in August," Schumacher told Gibbs.

The 30 per cent rate reduction was announced recently by the bureau, but no details of the schedule were available at that time.

Schumacher told Gibbs that he will meet with some insurance agents and representatives of the Rating Bureau here and discuss the technical aspects of the new schedule. Following the meeting Gibbs and Schumacher will discuss effects of the rates.

Says Audrey May Have Been Freak As Hurricane

COLLEGE STATION, Tex., Aug. 2 (UP)—Hurricane Audrey, in addition to being one of the most deadly weather freaks in years, may have been a freak as a hurricane too, it was disclosed today.

For example, hurricanes turn counter-clockwise, and as a result send high tides crashing inland on their right or east side. But not Audrey.

Dr. Robert O. Reid, associate professor of physical oceanography at Texas A&M College, announced today Audrey worked just the opposite. She sent tides inland on her west side.

Tides on Audrey's west side got up to six feet. This caused damage all along the upper Texas coast. Audrey did her worst to Cameron, La., and along the Texas-Louisiana line.

Dr. Reid said he suspected the rotation of the earth may have affected Audrey peculiarly. But he said, it will take a year of research to find out.

Cuban To Start 300-Mile Swim

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 2 (AP)—A massive Cuban will start swimming down the Mississippi River tomorrow toward Vicksburg, Miss., 300 miles away.

WITH STRICKEN SON

Skelton Leaves London After Attack By Press

EDINBURGH, Scotland, Aug. 2 (UP)—Comedian Red Skelton stormed out of London and flew here with his stricken son today because the London Press sniped at him.

The press in general and the "Daily Sketch" in particular criticized a press conference which Skelton held and which was attended by his nine-year-old son, Richard, who is suffering from fatal leukemia.

The Sketch denounced Skelton's last news conference as a "nauseating jamboree" in which "publicity men looking like professional mourners gravely handed out printed copies of Red Skelton's life story."

Richard Tearful
Richard was reported to have been on the verge of tears during the interview.

Skelton said he was "shocked and disappointed" at the way London newspapers described his European tour—which he arranged especially for his son who has been told he has only a year to live.

"I got sick of London because of them (the press) and left five days earlier than I intended," the comedian announced upon his arrival at Edinburgh's swank George Hotel.

Hopes for Cure

Throughout the trip, Skelton has expressed hope that newspaper coverage might help him discover someone who could cure Richard. He has received some 180,000 letters from persons who read of his visits with Richard to Denmark, Italy, Spain and France. But the London publicity was not to his liking.

Before leaving London, Skelton said he and his family had seen "all we wanted to see" during their two days stay.

"We are only cutting our stay short because of comments that have been made about us," said Mrs. Skelton, whose argument with her husband over renting an automobile last week in Naples came close to cancelling the entire trip.

The comedian told newsmen that he planned to remain in Scotland until Sunday.

From Edinburgh the Skeltons will fly to Dublin and then to Shannon.

"From Ireland we'll fly directly to New York at the end of the week," he said. "We do not want to return to London."

Jury Feels No Whip

Thanks to a sturdy band of southerners, the citizens of this nation have been saved from imminent trial by federal "referees" acting under the whip-hand of an ideological, modernistic and socialistic supreme court. The people are still assured of a trial by a jury of their peers.

This assurance was given early Friday when the U.S. senate nailed a jury trial amendment to the so-called civil rights bill. The southerners and those they won to their cause during historic debate on the dangerous measure thus won a victory over those who were ready and willing to flout the American constitutional guarantee of a trial by jury and to throw states' rights into the discard.

As it now stands, the "civil rights" bill provides for jury trials in criminal contempt cases arising from injunctions the attorney general would be empowered to obtain to enforce voting rights.

The bill still contains a lot of ugly provision but its monstrous, sharp teeth have been largely removed.

The senate first approved an amendment repealing an old law enacted during reconstruction days authorizing use of federal troops to enforce civil rights. It next knocked out most of the provisions of the bill's part III, which called for injunctions not only against voting discrimination but also against all other forms of alleged civil rights violations.

Although Senators Russell of Georgia, Ervin of North Carolina and Eastland of Mississippi carried the main burden of the fight by the southerners in the beginning, a big factor in gaining approval of the jury trial amendment was said to have been the adept, buttonholing generalship of Senator Lyndon Johnson of Texas. The amendment was offered by Senators O'Mahoney of Wyoming, Kefauver of Tennessee and Church of Idaho, all Democrats. Southerners backed it solidly and enough Republicans and northern Democrats joined them to put it across.

If those cited for contempt by the attorney general had been forced to rest their cases with the federal judges their chances would have been virtually nil.

Federal judges have been trained and conditioned throughout much of their lives to believe that decisions made by the supreme court border on the sacred. They look only at the law and at the supreme court rulings in making their decisions, particularly in cases involving national political situations.

How different are the members of a jury! They wear no man's collars and have no bull rings through their noses. They consider justice as well as law. They do not fear the supreme court's whip because it has no authority over them. A man found guilty by a jury may be freed by the supreme court or other courts but no court in the land can hold a man guilty who has been freed by a jury. That is the essence of the American trial by jury. The jury takes no orders from a mechanized, centralized court when it comes to the acquittal of a man or woman on trial. The jury is the final judge of the law and the evidence.

The southerners, after the victories already won, may or may not elect to filibuster to prevent enactment of the "civil rights" bill. If they do decide to carry on the battle to the end, they may not be able to block final passage but, in any event, their courageous fight has brought them a large measure of success.

In fact, Senator Knowland of California, senate G. O. P. leader and coordinator of the fight for passage of the bill, said the jury trial amendment constituted a "fatal blow" to the measure. He might not have the heart to put up much of a fight for a bill he considers so insipid.

Canadian Rumbles

Relations between the United States and Canada, following the recent Canadian election, are already creating problems for this country. This was emphasized by Secretary Dulles' trip to Ottawa.

The Canadian minister of agriculture has put controls on poultry imports and ordered price supports for Canadian fowl. Dissatisfaction is expressed by Canadian authorities concerning the U. S. import quota on Canadian rye.

Some pending Canadian actions are likely to shock the U. S. into the realization that it has been taking Canada too much for granted. Canadians complain that they spend more per capital for U. S. goods than any other nation but that the U. S. does not buy comparable quantities of Canadian goods. The imbalance causes a drain on the Canadian treasury.

Canada, whose agricultural economy is based essentially on wheat, is also unhappy about the U. S. dumping its surplus wheat abroad at any price it will bring. Canadians charge an intrusion into many of their traditional wheat markets.

The border between the two countries will remain undefended as an example of peaceful relations for the world. But trade relations could deteriorate.

BASCOM TIMMONS

Senator Lyndon Johnson Plays Vital Role In Maneuvering Rights Measure

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Toward the middle of the third week of the civil rights debate there occurred an all-significant exchange of dialogue.

Senator William Knowland (R.), "I wish to make a brief reference to the statement made by the minority (sic) leader."

Senator Lyndon Johnson (D.), "The statement I made?"

Knowland: "Yes."

Johnson: "Mr. President, I hope I am still the majority leader. The Senator from California may feel that I am the minority leader, but the Senate has not yet demonstrated that."

It may have been a Freudian slip on Knowland's part. His wish to be the Senate's head man could easily have fathered the misspoken word. But the repartee between the monumental Californian and the lean Texan with the whip-lash mind was the signal of much larger events. It announced that a Democrat was really in charge of this Republican bill. By prearrangement between the Senate leaders, Knowland had been floor-managing the Administration's civil rights measure from the inception of the debate. To all outward appearances, Johnson had done little except compliment the speakers each morning on their eloquence and restraint of the day before. His time on the floor has been seemingly taken up in quick conversational dashes to and from the cloakroom and in periods of recumbent meditation when he slouched up to his ear lobes in his front-aisle chair.

But to the large body of Johnson admirers these were not taken as signs of idleness or lack of interest. He was master-minding all the while, biding the time when he would openly take charge of the debate and guide the Senate to a decision which that jealous and touch-me-not body would regard as its unconstructed own. Meanwhile, with Knowland and Johnson operating at their characteristic best, the Senate scene illustrated a situation that is wilyly set forth in William S. White's masterful book "Citadel":

"Exposition, tireless, dogmatic, stubborn, repetitive and clear, is the Republican method. Humor, satire, suggestion, a greater and readier degree of eloquence, a swooping circular approach to the objective — this is the Democratic method."

Although circling and swooping out of public view, Johnson's mind's-eye was never off the result which he hoped to achieve. His was not a simple objective. Both his mind and the subject of civil rights are much too complex for that. What he wanted, I believe with little fear of being contradicted, is a bill for which (a) the Eisenhower Administration would get a maximum of blame and a minimum of credit, (b) the liberal Democrats would accept as grudgingly satisfactory and the conservative Democrats would regard as one the South can "live with."

Johnson is no social reformist. He regards the Democratic party, active in all the 48 States, as a true instrument for reflecting popular feelings. He accepts the two-party parliamentary system as one fully capable of rendering justice to all concerned. Thus he wanted a civil rights bill that would serve the nation, spare his party from disruption and not cover the Republican party with too much glory. This was how Johnson went about it:

1. After allowing the South its salvo of Confederate artillery by way of warning off extremists, Johnson used his potent influence

Aren't We Ever Going To Retire The Side?

GEORGE SOKOLSKY'S DAYS

Inner Sickness Of Two Major Parties Is Their Similarity To Each Other

The inner sickness of the Republican Party is identical with the inner sickness of the Democratic Party, namely, that they have each ceased to be distinct and separate political organizations except on the local level. Whereas they may battle fiercely over the election of a mayor of a town or the governor of a state, there is no heart for a real fight over great international or national issues.

The dissipation of identity is not so much the achievement of President Eisenhower, who, it may be recalled, was told that he would be nominated by both parties by the businessmen who went to Paris to implore him to be a candidate.

It is the inevitable result of Stalin's maneuvers against the United States in the international field. No one can make a partisan issue of the atom bomb or the hydrogen bomb or the destruction of the British Empire by slow attrition.

There is another factor in all this, namely, the newness and unbeliability of issues and names. For instance, Egypt is an old country but it had never become a factor in American politics until Nasser made Egypt a Russian satellite and put in peril the economics of the world. This is a tough one for politicians to debate because few of them have any preparation for it.

Yet the fact is that Egypt and the Suez Canal form a bridge among the three continents, Europe, Asia and Africa; Egypt dominates geographically the crescent of fertility on the edge of the Arabian Desert and it influences the greenland to the north of the Sahara Desert. It could, if only geography mattered, be the controlling state of the Mediterranean. That it never has played this role is again economics; it has usually been conquered and held by aliens from somewhere in Asia or Europe.

These geophysical matters have become even more complicated by such physical developments as the airplane and the world search for fuels and the struggle between socialist and capitalist economies.

In a word, the simple ways of life that mankind has known for centuries, first detonated by the discovery of Chinese gunpowder and then by the British discovery of the use of steam—these simple ways are now going through a universal revolution which takes on different manifestations in different countries.

For instance, Saudi Arabia, a heretofore poor country and never very significant even in the rise of Arabic culture, is now among the richest nations on earth because of its enormous accumulation of oil. Oil has become an item for international consideration and even for war. How can a Republican Party or a Democratic Party build a campaign platform on the issue of oil in Kuwait or oil in Iran and what should be American policy there?

And then there is the subject of uranium and thorium and all sorts of new minerals, some of which are found in the oddest and most unexpected places, and all of which alter international relations. For instance, Soviet Russia must take a dim view of Hungarian independence, not because the Hungarians will be able, in modern times, to be independent but because of Hungary's mineral content which Russia not only covets but means to possess.

It is the fact that Soviet Russia exists as a warlike and imperialist power that both the Republican Party and the Democratic Party have lost control of any issues concerning war and peace, disarmament, big navy or big army, or any such matters. These have now moved out of politics and into the realm of technology.

This much is certain: No country wants war but at least Soviet Russia and the United States must be prepared for war. But even this is complicated by the evidence that thermonuclear bombs are easy to make and are comparatively cheap and that effective political damage can be done by one bomb as by one hundred bombs. That is, effective political damage can be done by hurling one bomb at New York or one bomb at Moscow. Those cities would be literally fried. Therefore, the small, the weak and backward nations, held by gutter-trained dictators, can do as much damage as the great ones.

It is, for this reason, that when the political parties get away from local issues, they avoid finding a case to state.

CONGRESSIONAL QUARTERLY

64 'Yea' Votes Needed To Stop Filibuster In Senate

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (CQ)—The current senate exchange of small arms fire over amendments to the administration's civil rights bill has not kept the combatants from checking the status of their ultimate weapons: the filibuster, on one side, and the cloture vote to end debate on the other.

There is no assurance these legislative bombs will be brought into play. Indeed, senate moderates are making strenuous efforts to keep them out. But at this stage there is no certainty the mediation efforts will succeed.

If the ultimate test comes on the ability to sustain or break a filibuster, here's how the senate may line up:

Eighteen senators — all Democrats from deep south states — are considered contenders for the filibuster corps. All 18 voted successfully against detouring the house — passed civil rights bill around the senate judiciary committee, against starting debate on it and for sending it to committee.

Fifty-one senators are virtually certain to vote for cloture; they have supported every procedural move to hasten and assure final action on the civil rights bill.

Twenty-six senators are in the middle, and would hold the balance of power in a filibuster vs. cloture showdown. Thirteen of them would have to join the pro-cloture ranks to produce the 64 votes needed to shut off debate.

Partisans are busy scanning the previous votes of the 26 "Men in the Middle" to see which way they may go this time.

Eight of the 26 have rarely or never voted to invoke cloture. Eleven times since 1928, veteran Sen. Carl Hayden (D. Ariz.) has had a chance to vote to cut off debate, and only once has he done so. Sen. Styles Bridges (R. N. H.) has been even more consistent; he did not vote for a single one of the cloture moves.

Sen. Robert S. Kerr (D. Okla.), Karl E. Mundt (R. S. D.), Estes Kefauver (D. Tenn.), Lyndon B. Johnson (D. Texas) and Milton R. Young (R. N. D.), all voted against two moves to end debate during the 1956 senate battle on a fair employment practices commission (FEPC) bill.

On the other hand, five of the "doubtful" senators voted for cloture twice during the 1956 debate. They are: Sen. John J. Williams (R. Del.), Clinton P. Anderson (N. M.), Warren G. Magnuson (D. Wash.), Ralph E. Flanders (R. Vt.) and Joseph C. O'Mahoney (D. Wyo.).

That leaves 13 senators with mixed records or no records on civil rights and cloture votes. Abences on cloture votes, it should be noted, have the same effect as "nay" votes, since 64 "yea" votes are needed to shut off debate.

Not Members

Sens. Alan Bible (D. Nev.), Ralph Yarborough (D. Texas) and Frank J. Lausche (D. Ohio) were not members of congress when previous cloture and civil rights tests arose.

Sen. J. Allen Frear (D. Del.) has voted for cloture once, against once and missed one vote.

Sen. Mike Mansfield (D. Mont.) voted against cloture during the 1954 atomic energy debate, but supported anti-poll tax and FEPC bills in the house.

Sen. James E. Murray (D. Mont.) has voted for cloture six times, against it twice and failed to vote twice.

Another with a mixed record is Sen. Dennis Chavez (D. N. M.), with five votes for cloture, three against and two absences.

Similarly, Sen. Wayne Morse (D. Ore.) has four votes for cloture, two against and one absence in his record.

And they brought young children to him that he could touch them.—Mark 10:13.

One of our first and greatest obligations as Christians is to bring young people into the church. We should therefore set an example of Christian fidelity, happiness, charity and service in our daily lives. Youth cannot be fooled and we must be genuine followers of the Christ if we want to influence our own children and other church youth. What a great challenge is here offered to our faithfulness and devotion to Christ and the church!

Merciful God, help us so to live that we may win our youth for Thy Kingdom. In the name of Christ, our Savior, we pray. Amen.

DR. CRANE SAYS

Small Child's Fear Of Vacuum Cleaner Is Ended

Penny was only 2 years old, but she had already developed an abnormal terror. It even caused her to faint from fright. But this dread was not a whole-some one, so read how we "unconditioned" Penny to this childish fear. You can employ a similar technique in banishing other common phobias of toddlers. Scrapbook this crucial case.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
Case V-354: Penny R., aged 3, is a very smart little girl.

"But she is deathly afraid of our vacuum sweeper," her daddy informed me.

"She screams and fights like a madman to get away. I don't know where she first developed this terror."

"One of her young cousins recently learned of her dread and deliberately started the vacuum sweeper when Penny wasn't looking."

"Then he held her while she screamed. In a minute or two she had fainted, and my wife was panicky lest she had died."

"So we'd like to cure her of her phobia. Is it possible?"

"Conditioned" Fears

Yes, this dread of the vacuum sweeper is a "conditioned" fear. It is not an inborn or native terror.

She learned it somewhere along the line, even though her parents don't remember how or exactly when.

Dr. John B. Watson found that babies are not afraid of snakes or any furry animals or feathers or spiders or the dark or the other usual terrors that complicate the lives of many older children.

Loud noises and falling through space, were the two native fears that Dr. Watson listed as inborn.

Many toddlers develop a terror of dogs because these creatures may rush up to them and bark loudly when the child first contacts the puppy.

Maybe Carolyn was unduly startled by somebody who plugged in the vacuum sweeper when Carolyn was sitting on the machine.

The combined sudden noise and vibration may have launched her terror.

She has simply been "conditioned" unfavorably regarding a noisy vacuum sweeper.

So our job, as practical psychologists, is to "uncondition" Penny to the fear now linked with the sweeper. But how?

Well, we must teach her to associate fun and laughter and happiness with that household gadget.

Suppose we let her daddy play with her in the living room with the vacuum sweeper standing idle beside a chair.

As she grows hilarious and laughs with glees during their games, she will subconsciously begin to associate such gaiety with the sweeper.

By gradual degrees she can become accustomed not only to the idle sweeper, but they can ultimately work that gadget into their games.

For example, without turning it on, her parents can push it around like a baby carriage. Place her favorite Dolly on the metal housing of the vacuum sweeper and then let Penny push the silent machine all around the living room.

Her daddy can even call the sweeper an automobile and thus let Penny take Dolly for a ride. Keep up the process for several days.

Fun Masks Fear

As Penny grows more accustomed to the machine and from personally pushing it around, her fear will diminish.

Later, her daddy may ask her to toot the horn of the auto while she is giving Dolly a ride thereon. This can be done by quickly turning the motor on and then instantly shutting it off.

Let Penny manipulate the machine meanwhile, for when toddlers make the noise, they are not nearly as frightened about it as when somebody else causes the clatter.

Actually, by this method it didn't take three weeks before Penny was gleefully pushing the vacuum sweeper around the room with her Dolly riding thereon.

Her daddy would stick his foot in the way, and then Penny would toot the horn to warn him that he'd be run over if he didn't get out of the road.

And in a month, she was helping Mother sweep, by operating that vacuum cleaner!

SYLVIA PORTER

Cost Of Living Will Be At Another All-Time Peak

In this month of August, these things are slated to happen:

(1) Our cost of living will be reported at another all-time peak.

The bad news won't be released until the 23rd or 26th of August, but there's mighty little doubt even at this early date what the official figures will show. They'll reveal that for the 11th consecutive month, enough prices rose to push our living costs to a record.

The latest climb won't be sensational in itself. There will be mostly little increases — a few pennies extra for reading, recreation, personal care; a few dimes extra for food; a few quarters extra for housing and transportation — but they'll add up to the grim fact of a continuing cost-of-living squeeze. The chances are you'll read that it now costs you almost $1.21 to buy what $1 bought in 1947-48 — and that in the past 17 months the price rise has averaged a frightening 5 per cent.

(2) Personal incomes in the nation will hit a new top.

There's hardly any question about this one. For some time pay hikes are being granted automatically under contracts signed in past years; new contracts are being signed giving wage and salary boosts; social security benefit payments are zooming too, adding to personal incomes. Our incomes will be crossing the $344-billion-a-year mark this month, up from a whopping $18 billion from 1936.

(3) The cost of borrowing money will rise again to the highest levels in a quarter-century.

The demand for credit will continue to overwhelm the supply of money in August and the Federal Reserve System will continue to refuse to pour enough billions into the banking system to bring the demand the supply into balance. Banks right now are raising borrowing rates charged to the leading corporations of the land, and as the first-rate names pay more, so will the lower-rated borrowers pay more for loans.

Investors right now are demanding increasing coupons from corporations, states, cities selling new bonds. "Tight" money will be getting tighter in this, the month before the usual fall upswing in demands for loans gets under way.

(4) Mergers between corporations will be announced every day.

Despite government warnings, despite the publicity given to anti-trust activities, this will go down as a year of mergers surpassing anything seen since the roaring 20s — and mergers between business companies in 1957 alone probably will top 1,000. Big business is getting bigger in our land. And evidence is mounting that the 50 to 100 largest corporations in America are gaining control over a growing share of our nation's manufacturing business.

(5) Failures among small businesses will reach an 18-year record.

The failure upreud among businesses has shown no sign whatsoever of slowing and there's absolutely no reason to expect an improvement in this month of the summer " doldrums." Businesses are failing at a rate exceeding 1,000 a month, and most firms failing are small. Most are being forced to the wall because they haven't sufficient capital, haven't adequate experience or know-how to meet today's fierce competition.

(6) America's population will smash records every minute.

We've been topping every population forecast with fascinating regularity since the mid-40s and we'll continue to do so in August. We're a nation of far over 171 million folks right now — a mark we weren't scheduled to reach until years from now.

(7) And the largest number of Americans ever will go on vacation.

At least 80 million Americans are taking vacation trips in 1957 and tens of millions will be traveling during these summer weeks. Most of us will be going off in our own cars, visiting areas within our own borders. Altogether, we'll be spending close to $15 billion this year, about 5 per cent of our after-tax incomes on our holidays.

And why, say you, do I bunch these seven completely different news stories into one single column?

Because I now will join those 80 million vacationing in 1957 and I won't be here to cover these August stories as they break. Here's your preview, therefore — and so long... Until Labor Day...

Proof, he said, "is that the lottery companies in the metropolitan New Orleans area have their headquarters and drawings in the neighboring parishes and not in New Orleans. These law violators feared our police enforcement far more than Grevenberg's."

Grevenberg, before his grand jury appearance, told newsmen he felt Dayries is not "responsible for the condition of the New Orleans police department."

"I do not believe," Grevenberg said, "that he has been permitted to do the things in the department he would like to do. I think he has been hindered by the man who took personal responsibility for the police department . . . the mayor."

"I pointed out on many occasions to him the situation in New Orleans and he did nothing about it. I was always perturbed by the position taken by Morrison when I was (state) superintendent (1952-56). I received more behind-the-scenes opposition from him than from anyone else in the state."

President and Mrs. Slater will again extend the facilities of the home and grounds of Northeast Louisiana State college on August 8 for one hour starting at 7:30 p.m. to honor the graduates of the summer class who will on that date receive their diplomas.

The Slaters know just how to make everyone feel at home and students in the class, their parents and friends are extended a cordial invitation to attend.

Sixteen students at Northeast State are on an interesting tour of Mexico for the purpose of studying rocks and other similar formations in that interesting country.

Centering their study on volcanic activity they will be directed in their investigation by associate Prof. John C. Carter, Jr. and assistant Prof. Marcus Mapp, who are both instructors in geology at the local college.

A study will be made of volcanic ash and rock and a visit will be made to the site of Mexico's only volcano.

Students required to take the summer camp as majors in geology have recently returned from a three-week stay in Batesville, Ark., where they spent time in mapping the area.

Among those students who are represented by John Brown, George Hare and Billy Stewart of Sterling.

Father Dennis Curran, assistant pastor of Our Lady of Fatima church gave some wholesome advice to the North Monroe Kiwanis Club the other day.

He pointed out that the force of any movement is contained in the intensity and loyalty of its members. He cited Alcohol Anonymous as an instance and showed how the loyalty and sincere purpose of the membership are the basis on which success is built.

Man, he declared is social. He either loves or hates and when he embraces any movement, he said it must be a wholehearted affair. Loyalty never is divided. To do good work requires loyalty. He cited Napoleon, but that when he failed to build with love as basis he fell short and all collapsed.

Father Curran has a brilliant mind and when he talks, the public listens with deep interest.

Eisenhower discussed the Senate vote with his cabinet at their regular weekly meeting this morning. Before the meeting, Sen. Charles E. Potter (R-Mich.) described the President as "damned unhappy" about the outcome.

Formal Statement

The President later issued a formal statement in which he expressed appreciation for Knowland's fight for the House approved provision. It would have authorized federal judges to punish summarily without jury trials violators of voting rights injunctions.

"Rarely in our entire legislative history," the President said, "have so many extraneous issues been introduced into the debate in order to confuse both legislators and the public."

He said he felt the "utmost concern" that an attempt was made "to interpose a jury trial between a federal judge and his legal orders."

Voting Right Ineffective

"During our history as a nation," he said, "great Americans have pointed out that such a procedure would weaken our whole judicial system and particularly the prestige of the federal judiciary."

"In this case, it will also make largely ineffective the basic purpose of the bill—that of protecting promptly and effectively every American in his right to vote."

In the Senate, Johnson jubilantly told newsmen "the Senate was at its best" during the long session. He said the vote "shows that senators can't be threatened" with warnings of presidential displeasure.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 2 (AP)—The bankrupt owner of a suburban garden supply center shot his wife and sister-in-law to death, then took his own life.

Police said the principal figure in the triple shooting last night was Paul R. Warwick Jr., 37, grandson of a former mayor of Philadelphia.

His body was found in his Lansdowne, Pa., apartment, along with those of his wife, Josephine, 35, and her sister, Miss Mary R. McCann, 25.

Mrs. Warwick had been shot three times in the back, her sister and Warwick in the head.

A grandson of the late Charles F. Warwick, who was mayor of Philadelphia from 1895 to 1899, Warwick formerly owned the Lansdowne Garden Center. He was declared bankrupt in U.S. District Court here last April 23 with his sister-in-law listed among his creditors.

The shooting went undiscovered for about two hours. Residents of the neighborhood said later they had heard the flurry of gunshots but thought at the time it was fireworks shot off by some boys or automobile backfiring.

The bodies were discovered by Mrs. Warwick's mother, Mrs. Mary R. McCann, 62, and her other daughter, Mrs. Joseph Boyer, 26, who had come to drive Mary McCann home.

SIGHTED BY OLD-TIMER

Uncle Earl Comes To Town, But His Mission Uncertain

BY O. SWEENEY

The old-timer sat in the corner of the hotel lobby and squinted at the newspaper in his hands. He didn't say anything, but he knew something.

From his station in the corner in the hotel lobby, he had seen them coming and going—last morning, up and down the stairs.

The old-timer had been sitting there when he came in the afternoon before.

Across the lobby and behind the glass French doors, John McKeithen, the rumored candidate for governor, sat drinking a cup of coffee. So the old-timer got up and ambled through the lobby and past the French doors.

He whispered in McKeithen's ear — "John, did you know Earl was in town today?" McKeithen shook his head, answering yes he did. Somebody at the table asked what brought the governor to town. McKeithen shook his head, answering he didn't know.

The old-timer didn't know. Nobody around the coffee table with empty cups knew.

Knew A Little

The old-timer knew a little, though. He knew the governor arrived around 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon. He knew he spent the night.

And he saw John E. Coon, the state fire marshal, go up the stairs. A. K. Kilpatrick, the Long supporter, too.

The girl at the clerk's desk knew what the governor was doing in town.

As one man would put it, "mum-in Cuba."

He knew he checked out at 11 a.m. Friday. Rep. Lawrence Gibbs said he certainly didn't know. But he knew if you wanted to see him you could go up the elevator to the fifth floor, take a right and go all the way around to the corner suite.

Wayne Huckaby, the district engineer, said he didn't take up any business with him. Jack Howard, the mayor? Well, uh, he was behind closed doors across the street in City Hall, where if there was a bell in the tower an unusual note of harmony would be sounding off.

Coon verified the report. Said the governor was in town on a routine visit. Makes them quite often, Coon said.

McKeithen and the old-timer strolled back across the lobby. Somebody hollered out: "Hear ya running for governor, John?" McKeithen smiled.

The talk has been traveling around—that McKeithen had his eye on the big seat. He turned to a friend and said: "I guess Earl thought I had rolled out the welcome mat?"

But nobody would really say what the governor was doing in town.

As one man would put it, "mum-in Cuba."

Daye Scores Only TD As South Whips North, 6-0

BATON ROUGE, Aug. 2 (UP)—Donnie Daye of Ferriday plunged two yards for a second quarter touchdown to give the South a 6-0 victory over the North in the Louisiana All-Star football game tonight.

Daye's smash capped a 35-yard drive following a North fumble.

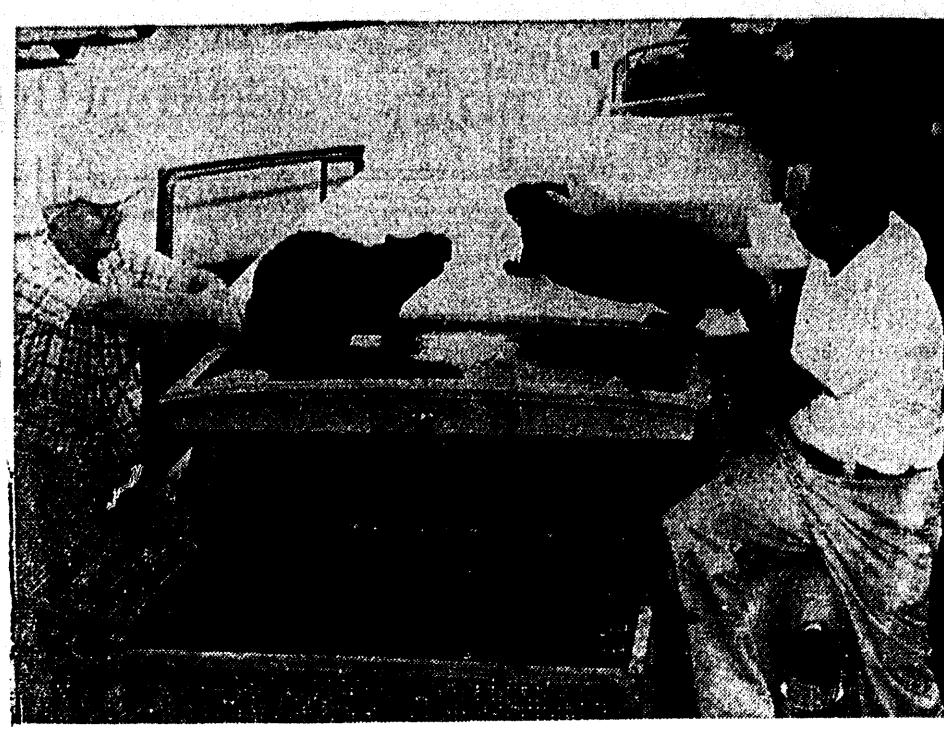

A crowd of more than 5,000 watched two North scoring attempts fizzle in the final quarter. A fumble on the eight-yard line halted one drive and Jerry Martin of Baker High intercepted a pass from Don Sessions of Springhill to stifle the Yank's final drive.

Wayne Kozan of Baton Rouge High was the busiest back for both teams. The fleet youngster, who will enter Louisiana State University this fall, carried 16 times for a net gain of 55 yards. His 23-yard burst up the middle set up Daye's scoring plunge.

Sam Smiddy of Minden reeled off the North's top gain—a 24-yard burst in the final quarter.

The game climaxed the clinic held here by the Louisiana High School Coaches Assn.

South 6 0 0 0—6
South scoring: Touchdown—Daye (2, plunge).

Yankees Win On Pinch Hit

NEW YORK, Aug. 2 (UP)—a brilliant pitching performance, the erstwhile left-handed ace of the Cleveland bullpen, pinch hit home Jerry Coleman in victory over the Cleveland Indians tonight.

New York Yankees rallied to ruin a crowd of 36,599 saw Mossi.

TO MEET TOWRY

LSU Golfer Blasts Way Into Public Links Finals

HERSHEY, Pa., Aug. 2 (UP)—after leading the 26-year-old boiler room Essig of Indianapolis and factory worker through most of the day.

Towry, a 120-pound, five foot, six-inch, crew cut blond, easily disposed of 39-year-old Paul Popovic, San Francisco insurance man, 7 and 6. Towry led four up at the end of the first 18 and scored to a six hole lead at the second round turn.

Both Essig and Towry play a steady, careful game but Essig was rated a slight favorite because he is more accustomed to competition. Towry has been Junior and Indiana State champion—won "practically lives on the golf course," defeated Don Skrabulis, Antioch, Calif., 4 and 3, cently.

NOT AN INTEGRATIONIST

Trackman Quits Louisiana State To Make Big Meets

MEMPHIS, Aug. 2 (UP)—A young track star who quit Louisiana State University because racial policies limit the school's athletic field said today his decision has nothing to do with segregation, nor color.

"I want to make something clear. I am not an integrationist," said John West of Memphis. "I have expected to wake up some night and see a Ku Klux Klan cross burning on my front yard. I'm serious, people have said things to me."

"I am only making the change because LSU can't compete in meets where Negroes might be entered, which pretty well limits the field. I was satisfied with LSU in every respect but that. I've got a lot to learn and I need proper competition to learn it."

The state's policy for LSU would have barred West from such big-time track meets as the Drake Relays, Texas Relays, NCAA championships, U. S. Olympic trials or any other event where Negro athletes might take part.

West said he was writing a "letter of explanation" to newspapers in Baton Rouge, where LSU is located.

In his letter of resignation to LSU coach Al Moreau, West said he always had hoped he might become good enough for national track honors and possibly even represent the United States on the 1960 Olympic team.

West said he is transferring to the University of Kansas. As a freshman last year, he won the 100 and 200 yard dashes in the Southeastern Conference meet, and tied a school record with 9.5 seconds in the 100-yard dash.

Musial Hammers Cardinals Past Phil Defenses, 5 To 2

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 2 (UP)—Stan Musial's third extra-base hit, a two-out double, drove in the winning run tonight in the tenth inning as the league-leading St. Louis Cardinals defeated the Philadelphia Phillies, 5 to 4, giving relief pitcher Willard Schmidt his tenth consecutive victory.

Philadelphia's Ashburn, c, was hit by a pitch in the eighth inning. Musial, 1b, drove in the winning run with a double to right field. Schmidt, 2b, pitched a perfect ninth.

Boston Checks Chicago's Sox In 10 Frames, 5 To 4

BOSTON, Aug. 2 (UP)—Jackie Jensen cracked a bases-loaded single off the shins of Freddie Hatfield to score the winning run for a 10-inning 5-4 Boston victory over the second-place Chicago White Sox tonight after the Red Sox had wasted a three-run homer by Ted Williams.

Bill Fischer, the fourth Chicago pitcher, set up the winning rally when he yielded a one-out single to Frank Malzone. Gene Stephens followed with a hard single to right and moved to second on the throw to third for Malzone. Dick Evers was walked intentionally to set up a possible double play and Jensen came through with his hit which Hatfield was unable to recover before Malzone came home with the winning tally.

The White Sox knocked out Red Sox starter Frank Sullivan in the ninth inning when they scored two runs to send the game into overtime. Just one single, a hit batsman, three walks and a sacrifice fly scored the two runs.

RAIN SETS BACK BABE RUTH PLAY

NEW ORLEANS, La. (Special)—The Louisiana championship Babe Ruth Baseball Tournament, at the semi-final stage, was delayed by rain yesterday with the schedule being set back one day.

Semi-finals rescheduled for today are New Orleans vs. Metairie and Thibodaux vs. Monroe.

The game climaxed the clinic held here by the Louisiana High School Coaches Assn.

South 6 0 0 0—6
South scoring: Touchdown—Daye (2, plunge).

Wayne Kozan of Baton Rouge High was the busiest back for both teams. The fleet youngster, who will enter Louisiana State University this fall, carried 16 times for a net gain of 55 yards. His 23-yard burst up the middle set up Daye's scoring plunge.

Sam Smiddy of Minden reeled off the North's top gain—a 24-yard burst in the final quarter.

COACH FOR A YEAR—Bob Hicks, 36-year-old former Tennessee and Dartmouth center, yesterday was named head football coach at Indiana University for one year during the suspension of Phil Dickens. Dickens, who brought Hicks to Bloomington, Ind., from Wyoming this spring as an assistant, was suspended by the Big Ten last Sunday for alleged excessive offers to prospective athletes. ## Orioles Take Pair Of Wins Off Athletics

BALTIMORE, Aug. 2 (UP)—The Baltimore Orioles swept a bizarre doubleheader from the Kansas City Athletics tonight, winning opener 5-4 on Bob Boyd's home run in the 13th inning and the second game 10-2 on the seven-hit pitching of Connie Johnson.

The game climaxed the clinic held here by the Louisiana High School Coaches Assn.

Monroe Defeats Alexandria

ALEXANDRIA, La. (Special)—McCain-Richards of Monroe staged a four-run uprising in the ninth inning here yesterday to defeat the Alexandria Sentinels, 5-1, and deadlock the north Louisiana semi-finals in the Louisiana American Legion Junior baseball playoffs at a victory a piece. Deciding game of the series is scheduled for tonight at 8 o'clock at Legion Memorial Stadium in Monroe.

The gritty Monroe boys, shut out in the first game of the series, 6-0, when errors were so costly, gave lefthander Freddy Southerland errorless support afield yesterday and went on one of their best hitting sprees of the season to notch the victory. Monroe outhit Alexandria, 9 to 7, and the nine hits is mighty strong for the usually weak-hitting Ouachita parish club that has a strong pitching staff.

And Monroe made its uprising as the expense of "Buddy" Cosenza, Sentinel ace and victor in the series opener, who came into yesterday's game in a relief role in the eighth inning. Then Manager Ralph Sims' Monroe kids jumped on Cosenza for four hits in the ninth inning along with an error and a free pass to stun Alexandria with its first defeat of the season.

Alexandria boasted a string of 17 consecutive victories until after yesterday's game.

The Sentinels scored in the first inning yesterday. J. T. Rouzeau singled, stole second and scored on Cosenza's hit, but Monroe tied the score in the third frame when Fred Peters tripled after two were out and scored on Julius Haddad's single.

In Monroe's big final spurt, Peters and Ronnie McNabb hit successive singles after one was out. Lanny Johnson doubled to score Peters and McNabb. Haddad fled out, but Francis Genuza singled, scoring Johnson. A base on balls to Jim Altick and an error set Genuza up at third base. He stole home before Tommy Crowe went down for the last out.

Monroe is expected to shoot Louis Kincaid at the Sentinels tonight, but could likely come back with Altick, the loser in the series opener. Alexandria's pitcher tonight is still doubtful, but some figure the Sentinels will go with Cosenza again in a gamble to take the series and then rest him for the state finals.

Rain yesterday caused postponement of the other semi-final. Lafayette and Baton Rouge at the latter city. It has been rescheduled for tonight. The second game is set for tomorrow at Lafayette, and a third, if necessary, will go to Lafayette Monday.

Score by innings:
Monroe ... 001 000 004-5 9 3
Alexandria ... 100 000 000-1 7 0
Southernland and Crowe: Rigby, Cosenza (8) and Crenshaw.

Pirates Sign Pitcher
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 2 (UP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates announced today the signing of 18-year-old pitcher Peter Sala, a lefthander who averaged 17 strikeouts a game at Hartford (Conn.) public high school. The Pirates said 10 other major league clubs were interested in the six-foot, 185-pounder. He was assigned to the Lincoln, Neb. farm club.

MISS CREED LEADS

De Vincenzo Heads Golf Pros

CHICAGO, Aug. 2 (UP)—Robert De Vincenzo, a dapper South American who never has finished better than eighth in seven tries at the "All American" open, missed the course record on one stroke with a 64 today to lead the field after 36 holes with a 133 total.

De Vincenzo, 34, was nine strokes under par for the distance. But he was two strokes behind the record of 131 set for the first 36 holes by Ed "Porky" Oliver in 1947.

Oliver was the leader after 18 holes this year with a 66, the same total he got on the first round in 1947. Today, however, he played badly for a 76 and a total of 142, well behind De Vincenzo. Second place instead went to

Cubs Finally Win, Defeat Bucs On Neeman's Homer

CHICAGO, Aug. 2 (UP)—Cal Neeman connected for a three-run homer in the eighth inning today to lead the last place Chicago Cubs to their first victory in four games, a 6-4 decision over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Neeman's eighth circuit blast of the season drove in Bobby Morgan, who ran for Dale Long after the latter singled, and Ernie Banks, who was safe on Dick Groat's error at short. The shot came off starter Vern Law and accounted for three of the Cubs' six unearned runs.

Neeman's homer erased a 4-3 Pirate lead, gained on home runs by Groat and Bob Skinner in the fourth inning, and by Gene Freese in the eighth.

The Cubs scored two unearned runs in the first inning on errors by Freese, Skinner and Law. They added another unearned run in the sixth when Walt Moryn doubled and Dale Long singled. Long moved to second on an error by Bill Mazeroski, who threw wildly to the plate allowing Moryn to score.

The winner in relief was Dave Hillman, who came on for rookie right hander Dick Drott in the eighth after Freese belted his homer and Groat got a walk. It

US Defeats Brazil Twice In Davis Play

CHESTNUT HILL, Mass., Aug. 2 (UP)—The United States parlayed talented youth and even more talented experience into a double victory over Brazil today in the Davis Cup American zone finals on sun kissed grass courts at Longwood Cricket club.

The U.S. team's youth was exemplified by 23-year-old Sammy Giammalva of Houston, Tex., who wore down Brazilian team captain Armando Vieira, 4-6, 7-5, 6-4, 4-6, 6-4 in opening singles play.

In the second match Philadelphia's Vic Seixas, who will be 34 this month, breezed to a 6-3, 6-3, 6-2 decision over Carlos Fernandez, a 19-year-old gamester who was completely outclassed by the third-ranked American.

Giammalva, a University of Texas senior, was forced to the limit in his match with the lightning-quick Vieira. He took the second and third games after dropping the first but Vieira, who had benten Giammalva on a clay court three weeks ago, was still to be contended with. He broke Giammalva's service twice and placed powder-puff shots just out of the Texan's reach to take the fourth game.

Giammalva, breaking the 5'6" Brazilian's service twice in return, leaped off to a 5-1 advantage in the deciding set. However, spunky Vieira captured three straight games before Giammalva clinched it on a topser that fell just over the net during a volley.

There was never a doubt as to the winner of the Seixas-Fernandez match. The veteran Seixas, playing almost flawless tennis, took only 10 minutes to win the first set and went on to overpower Fernandez.

Clifford Ann Creed, the young Opelousas, La. former Western Union champion, held first place among women amateurs with an 82 for a 157 total, six strokes ahead of Mary Tully, Salem, Wis.

Bill Casper Jr., Bonita, Calif., who had a first round 67 and who posted a 68 today for 135, while young Paul Harney, Worcester, Mass., had a 67 for 136, and veteran Jimmy Demaret, Klamath Lake, N.Y., tallied a 66 for a 137 total.

There was a four way tie for fifth place at 138 between Tommy Bolt, Los Angeles, with a 70, Don Fairfield, Casey, Ill. with a 69, Doug Ford, Mahopac, N.Y., with a 65, the second best round of the day, and Bob Rosburg, San Francisco, with a 69.

Fay Crocker, Montevideo, Uruguay, equalled par 76 for a 36 hole total of 147, but had to share first place with Jacqueline Pung, Honolulu, who posted a 73 today for the same total.

Beverly Hanson, Indio, Calif., a first day leader along with Miss Crocker, fell a stroke behind with a 77 while Patty Berg, the defending champion from Chicago, moved into fourth with a 74 for 150. Kathy Cornelius, Dayton, Ohio, was fifth at 152 with a 78 today.

Boyd Registers Boxing Victory Against Vaughn

NEW YORK, Aug. 2 (UP)—Middleweight contender Bobby Boyd outpointed Willie Vaughn again tonight in their return 10-rounder at the St. Nicholas arena for his fifth straight victory on the comeback trail.

Boyd of Chicago, rated ninth in the division, won a majority decision tonight when one of the three ring officials called it a draw.

In their previous bout at Chicago last May 15th, Boyd took a split decision when one of the officials favored Vaughn.

Tonight's bout was closely contested at close quarters in every round; however, Boyd appeared to have an edge because of his harder and cleaner punching.

COACH IS A LADY
OKLAHOMA CITY (UP)—Members of the Council Gophers pee-wee baseball team are extra polite to their coach. They have reason to be. The coach is a woman, Mrs. Ed Godwin. The lady skipper has been successful, too. The Gophers won their league title and made the playoffs for the city championship.

MOVING UP
GRAND FORKS, N.D. (UP)—The new University of North Dakota head football coach, Marv Helling, coached high school football in Minnesota before being named head coach at UND last spring.

Senators Tag Bengals With 2 To 1 Defeat

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (UP)—Julio Becquer's pinch single with two out in the ninth inning scored Pedro Ramos from second base tonight and gave the Washington Senators a 2-1 victory over the Detroit Tigers.

Roy Sievers extended his home run streak by hitting his fifth in the last five games to come with one of the American League record held jointly by the late Lou Gehrig and Ken Williams. Sievers hit his 20th of the year in the second inning and tied his own Washington club record.

Camilo Pascual was the winner in a tight duel with Paul Foytack. Pascual gave up five hits and Foytack six.

Hunt and Whitaker closed out the Minor 'A' League season undefeated last night with 9-4 decision over winless Dew Music. Seven-Up romped over Spatafora Pharmacy, 16-3, in the other season ending game.

Hill pitched 3-hit ball to get credit for the Hunt and Whitaker win. Catcher Haddad and Fontana had perfect nights at the plate with 2 for 2 to pace the winners at bat. Robertson was the losing pitcher and his battery mate, Pope, had 2 hits in 3 trips.

Barnes rapped out 2 hits in 4 trips to pace Seven-Up's 5-hit attack and Hanson pitched a 2-hit ter to gain credit for the win over Spatafora. Aron and Spatafora was the losing battery and Lea had 1 for 1 to lead the losers at the plate.

Braves Dump Dodgers, 1-0, On Conley's Four-Hitter

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 2 (UP)—Gene Conley pitched a four-hitter for his fourth straight victory and batted in the games' only run with a single to give the Milwaukee Braves a 1-0 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers tonight.

The season's largest crowd here, 45,840, saw the 6-foot, 8-inch Conley blank the Dodgers in the opener of their important three game series.

An error by Peeewe Reese, playing shortstop for the first time in two months, put lead-off batter Johnny Logan in scoring position in the fifth. Logan singled off Reese's glove and the Dodger veteran threw wild to first with Logan taking second on the peg.

With two out, Conley singled sharply to left field off Brooklyn

ONE SEASON IN MINORS
ST. LOUIS (UP)—Alvin Dark, who has been a big help as shortstop for the St. Louis Cardinals, had only one season in the minors. That was in 1947 when he played for Milwaukee, then in the American Assn. He batted .303. With nine big league seasons behind him he entered 1957 with a .293 lifetime mark.

Mayor Hints Ace In Hole To Keep Pelicans In N.O.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 2 (AP)—Mayor deLesseps Morrison said today baseball club directors still were fighting to keep the New Orleans Pelicans in the AA Southern Association and hinted "we still have another ace in the hole."

Morrison, a Pelican director and the booster, declined to uncover the ace. But he was confident the cellar-buried team could finish the remaining five weeks of the season, from its New Orleans base, and said he expected a better season next year.

Pelican directors were shut-mouthed yesterday after a three-hour meeting, other than to say they would "try and operate as best we can" despite a fund shortage.

Other directors declined to say then how far short of a $25,000 goal an extended drive for funds fell. But Morrison said they came close enough to make them keep trying.

The Pelicans reached one $25,000 goal July 10. A second $25,000 was sought by July 15, but that drive was extended until yesterday in an effort to reach the combined total of $50,000.

Morrison said the entire $50,000 was reached if both cash and "underwritings" were counted. Some persons who agreed earlier to underwrite sums were out of town yesterday and did not appear at the meeting, but Morrison said the directors considered their earlier statements good.

This, he said, along with advance ticket sales and planned promotions, made the directors certain they could carry the team within one week.

Howlett, president of the Tulsa Oilers, said today he had arranged to purchase Walt Derucki, a second baseman who quit the Shreveport Sports.

Howlett said the deal with the Tulsa Oilers depends on Derucki contracting and reporting to Tulsa within one week.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

SCHEDULED MONDAY

Teaching Of Handicapped Theme Of Conference Here

A conference on "Teaching of the Mentally Handicapped Child" at Northeast State, Monday will bring Dr. Herbert Goldstein to the college. Dr. Goldstein, of the University of Illinois, is associated with the Institute for Research on Exceptional Children.

Early Cold Spell In Area Forecast By Winn. Man

WINFIELD, (Special)—H. B. Bozeman, an elderly, retired Winfield business man, says that according to tradition we will have some cold weather in six weeks.

He based this prediction on the south-eastward flight of yellow sulphur butterflies through this section of the state during the past week. Bozeman said that a lot of the old timers had told him that when the yellow butterflies fly through, you can expect the first frost, or at least considerably cooler weather, in about six weeks.

Bozeman said this would place the weather change at about the first or second week in September. He continued that he has done research on the migratory butterflies, and has found that they hatch in Nebraska and Kansas and they fly to the Florida and Cuba areas where they lay their eggs and die. In the Spring, the young butterflies wing their way northward.

The one-day program, will be held in the air conditioned amphitheater of the Administration Building with sessions scheduled for 10 a.m. and 2 p.m.

Dr. Goldstein will stress trends in education of mentally handicapped children and will emphasize curriculum and specially designed classes for these children in the afternoon meeting. He will be available for questions following each conference period. The special meeting is arranged under Act 499 of the 1956 State Legislature which earmarked funds for colleges to train teachers in special education.

Northeast has been named to train teachers for mentally handicapped children, crippled children, or children with serious health problems. Teachers may certify to teach in this field of education under the present program at the Northeast.

City Courts

MONROE

Thirty-nine persons appeared before Judge W. M. Harper in Monroe City Court yesterday, most of them on minor charges.

Herbert L. Moore, 614 Robert, Bastrop, charged with driving while intoxicated, was ordered to pay $400 or serve seven months.

Jessie Jenkins, Jr., of Gilbert, was sentenced to $200 or 200 days, on a count of possessing obscene literature for exhibition and sale.

Five persons were sentenced for speeding, eight for drunkenness, and one for simple battery.

Twenty-three persons forfeited cash bonds totaling $230. No cases were heard in the West Monroe court.

SPENT $128,855

OPELOUSAS — UP — The Opelousas housing authority said Friday it has spent $128,855 for land at white and Negro low-rent housing sites. Eighty houses for the Negro project and 60 white units are proposed.

Street Dance Held In Bastrop

BASTROP (Special) — There was dancing in the streets of Bastrop last night, the rotund Mayor A. P. (Fats) Carter sang several hillbilly songs and a cake auction was held.

The big event was started at 8 p.m. and attracted thousands. It was sponsored by the Boone-McDowell Post Veterans of Foreign Wars for the benefit of the Cameron relief fund.

The dance was held on the paved area north of Bennett and Jackson Streets. Admission was by a free will offering.

A highlight of the affair was a baked goods auction with Mayor Carter and T. P. Kelly acting as auctioneers. Women contributed the pies and cakes.

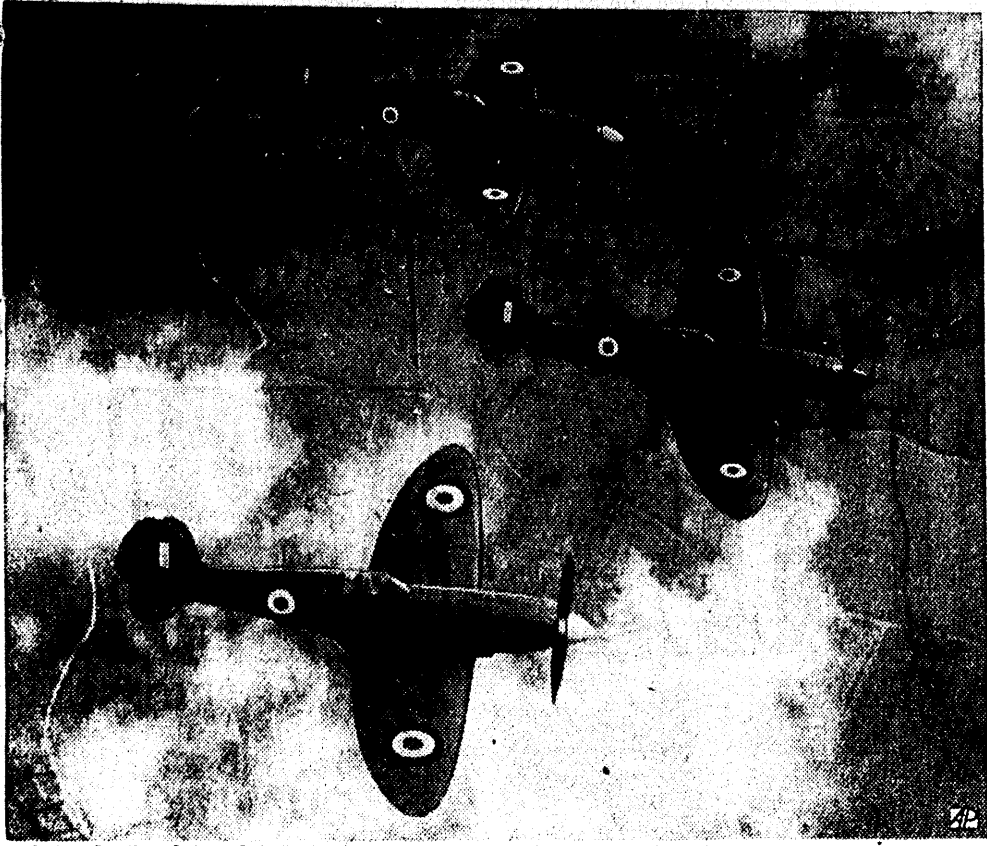

A Crockett hillbilly band, known as the "Playtime Boys," volunteered its services for the event, and prizes were offered for dance contests in jitterbug, waltz and other popular steps.

Friends who attended were: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Falls, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Boutwell, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Flemming, Rev. and Mrs. H. G. Hammons - all of Kilbourne, and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Crow of Forest.

FLYING FISH CAUGHT?
CHICAGO (UP)—No, that wasn't a flying fish that perched on William Krull's fishing pole. A water-logged parakeet seized the tip of Krull's rod when he let it dip into Lake Michigan. Krull took the parakeet home.

Beer And Cigarettes Poor Diet For 14-Year-Old Girl—Whoa-Up Now

By ANN LANDERS
Dear Ann: I'm a girl 14, but have the looks and shape to get any boy 17. My problem is my mother. She doesn't trust me.

I had a date last night. We got lost and I didn't get in until 2:15 a. m. When I walked into my bedroom my mother was there, snooping through my drawers. She had found a package of cigarettes and was raving mad. Then she smelled beer on my breath and yelled so loud she woke everyone up. I only had one small beer. Beer is supposed to be nourishing on account of the malt. I can't see why she was so upset.

Now she says I can't go on the hay-ride next week. She watches me like a hawk and treats me as if I were a criminal. What can I do to get my mother to trust me? Please answer in the paper. My mother won't buy me any stamps. — Misunderstood Teen.

Too bad your mother won't buy you stamps. Who buys you cigarettes? You sound like a real handful, young lady, and it's high time your mother cracked down.

If you want to be trusted you'd better begin to behave yourself and do something to earn that trust. Sit back in your cage and don't ask for any privileges until the climate changes at home. Try to be a help to your mother, instead of a headache. A 14-year-old girl should not be smoking cigarettes, she should not be out until 2:15 (lost — my Aunt Minnie) and she should stick to milk for nourishment. It's much healthier than beer — in more ways than one.

Don't Worry Over Eating Habits Try Variation To Correct Them

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED
It would be so easy to feed children if they always ate exactly what they should and in the amounts we thought appropriate for them. Also, if they never developed those strange distastes for good foods, or those equally mysterious urges for some certain food which kept them eating the same thing day after day.

But all of these are natural types of eating behavior and should be expected by the mother.

Mrs. D. D. writes, "My little girl is 26 months old. Ever since she stopped eating strained foods and I introduced her to table food, she has refused to eat meat and vegetables.

"She never refused a tablespoon of her strained foods and now, at breakfast, she still eats fine. She can get away with two or three helpings of bacon, two or three helpings of cereal, the same of fruit, and three real, hard crusts — eaten without butter — and then her skimmed milk.

Lunch a Problem

"Lunch is always a problem. She used to get a whole egg but now the doctor says just an egg yolk twice a week. My husband and I eat meat and several vegetables. I mash them for her. I cut the meat fine, or grind it and sometimes put it on the crusts she likes. It is amusing how she will eat all around the vegetables or meat — or else will hand the whole thing back to me. Sometimes all she wants is a dish of consomme. I don't give her any pudding at noon unless she eats her meat and vegetables.

"She sleeps well and has always napped outdoors. She gets nothing between meals and has never touched candy or even sweet biscuits."

After that enormous breakfast I don't wonder she is indifferent to lunch. If she will take some vegetable soup with the vegetables strained out, and eat a mashed banana, I would call it a good lunch. On the days she has egg, you could just beat it slightly and add it to the hot soup.

Try Raw Vegetables

At night, try the vegetables and

Tell her to get busy doing things for others. Hospitals need help and so do other service institutions. A good way to get your mind off grief is to look at the troubles other people have. Ours, by comparison, seem a whole lot smaller.

This woman should be grateful that she had a father she could love and one whose presence is missed. So many people don't have such pleasant memories. — H. E. N.

Confidentially: Barbara: I read every word of it (when!) and I urge you not to be so glib. Those promises are written on flowing water and shifting sand. Tell him to prove he's off the sauce by staying six months more.

meat in her fingers. She might like raw vegetables better than the cooked and if cut in thin slivers they should not bother her. Or, grind them and add them to the sieved meat. It is obvious she is not ill-fed and so you should be able to be calm until you find a way to interest her in these table foods.

To prevent mildew, always dry soiled clothes, towels and wash clothes before putting them in the laundry hamper.

Mr. Business Owner

We would like to ask you a point blank question. "Are you interested in making your business a more productive and profitable operation?" We feel sure the answer to that is "of course". So if we may, we would like to explain to you how this may be done at a surprisingly low cost.

Extensive surveys prove that background music boosts sales, creates more consumer traffic, and improves employee morale, to name just a few of the important factors. Tempo background music is designed for YOUR business—it provides the perfect atmosphere to stimulate increased business from your customers. It has proven its value in stores throughout the nation in cities of every size (one doesn't need to be from a large city to appreciate distinction).

If your store is to add this distinguishing feature in time for the seasonal upswing in business, we would suggest you get in touch with us immediately. The demand for our service has been far beyond our expectations, and we would appreciate hearing from you at your earliest convenience. REMEMBER, WE ARE THE ONLY TAPE BACKGROUND SERVICE IN MONROE.

AFTER LOSING BABY

Marilyn Monroe Says She Still Wants To Be Mother

NEW YORK, Aug. 2 (UP)—Marilyn Monroe, groggy from the loss of her "most wanted baby" after only a month of pregnancy, declared from her hospital bed today that she still hopes to be a mother.

The doctor, who performed emergency surgery on the three-month-old actress Thursday night, said she apparently never had been pregnant before.

Miss Monroe, 31, was rushed 100 miles by ambulance from her summer home on Long Island to doctors hospital Thursday night.

Her playwright husband, Arthur Miller, accompanied her and moved into the hospital to stay until she is released some time next week.

"She is all right emotionally," haggard-looking Miller told newsmen. "Now she is just recovering. She has a lot of courage, more courage than anyone I have ever met. She told me she wants to have as many babies as she can get."

Later, Miller told reporters at the swanky hospital that "this was the first time we have ever tried to have a baby."

Dr. Hilliard Dubrow, who performed a curettage on Miss Monroe at 11 o'clock Thursday night, said her condition was "as good as can be expected."

"As far as I could see, this was the first time she had ever been pregnant," Dubrow said. "She can have more children and she is very anxious to have more."

Miss Monroe's press agent took a big bouquet of red roses this morning and chatted with her in an attempt to raise her spirits. He said the actress, who was brought to the hospital in pajamas, was wearing a regular white hospital gown instead of a movie style nightgown.

"The best news she had was that the doctor told her she could have more kids," the press agent said.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 2 (UP)—The Lake Pontchartrain Causeway collected $134,241 during July, a new monthly high, and raised the total revenue from tolls since its opening in August, 1956, to $1,169,434.

The management of the 24-mile-long causeway, longest in the world, said the previous monthly high was $127,938 in June.

Automobile traffic during July totaled 113,312; trucks 9,287; buses, 572, and light trailers and other vehicles, 1952.

"As far as I could see, this was the first time she had ever been pregnant," Dubrow said. "She can have more children and she is very anxious to have more."

Strike Of Metal Workers May Last Through Monday

A spokesman of Local 503 workers last night said the settlement of their local strike depends on the shop owners as the dispute appeared it would last through Monday.

Sheet metal workers normally do not work on Saturday, but the spokesman said the strike would be in effect Monday unless the shop owners "make the next move" before then.

Nine shops remained idle through yesterday after 18 union workers failed to show up for work Thursday morning.

Johnny Holmes, spokesman for the shop owners, said last night the dispute did not solely evolve around wages, but explained that the two groups have been unable to reach an agreement on the terms of their contract.

Point of Difference
He said the shop owners want the contract to expire on December 31st, last for 18 months. The union has asked for a one or two year contract to expire on June 30th.

Holmes said the shop owners would hire any person interested in work — "not specifically non-union help."

The union has asked for a 20-cent an hour increase on the one-year contract or a 10-cent raise on the two-year contract. The shop owners have offered an eight-cent raise with a four cent an hour boost the beginning of the third six-month period.

Settled for Same
Holmes said the union in Shreveport settled for the "same thing we offered here."

Sheet metal workers supply manpower in the construction of roofing on buildings, air conditioners and the finishing up process in construction jobs where sheet metal is used.

Shops effected by the walkout include Proffit and Holmes, O. K. Sheet Metal Works, Hatcher-Tymes, Covington Sheet Metal Works, Kutz Sheet Metal Works, Procell and Son, La. Roofing Company, Slagle Johnson Lumber Company, and Futch Roofing and Sheet Metal.

Missing Pin-Up May Be Held As Love Captive

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 2 (UP)—A curvaceous Hollywood "pin-up girl" was reported missing today and deputy sheriffs said she might be held a love captive by a photographer who hired her to pose for pictures.

The missing model is Judy Ann Van Horn Dull, 19, mother of a year-old daughter and estranged from her husband, Robert Dull, 24, of nearby La Crescenta, Calif.

Her roommate, Betty Carver, 18, told detectives the model vanished Thursday with a self-styled photographer she met for the first time after a telephone conversation.

Man Telephoned
Miss Carver said the man telephoned two days ago and introduced himself to Judy. He wanted to take pin-up pictures at her apartment because he did not have a studio, she said.

But when the photographer arrived, he told the model he had obtained a studio and asked her to accompany him. Miss Carver said he asked the model to take some skirts and a blouse for costume changes.

The "love captive" theory was advanced by officers who said no record of the photographer or the studio could be found. A telephone number he left with Miss Carver proved to be fictitious, detectives said.

MISS. REPUBLICAN Applauds Demos For Youth Group

JACKSON, Miss., Aug. 2 (UP)—B. McClendon Jr., state chairman of the Mississippi Young Republican Federation, applauded the Democrats for organizing a young Democratic organization if it does not become "a personal organization for Gov. J. P. Coleman."

McClendon said in a statement to newspapers that two weeks ago "I was informed that Gov. Coleman had instructed his friends to organize a young Democratic club in Mississippi and that the real purpose of the club is to build up a personal organization for Gov. Coleman to use in a campaign against Sen. James Eastland (D-Miss) in a race for the Senate."

Rumors around the capital have persisted in saying Coleman plans to run for the Senate in 1960. Coleman has neither affirmed nor denied the rumor.

Navy Mothers Day Locally Proclaimed

Monroe and West Monroe mayors have set aside today as "Navy Mothers Day" and have appealed to local citizens to "pay respect to those mothers who have sacrificed so much."

Mayor W. L. Howard, Monroe, and Mayor J. Allan Norris, West Monroe, signed a proclamation that cited the Navy Mothers for endorsing the service of their sons' choice. The mayors stated that "many of their sons and daughters died during World War and the Korean conflict."

"They encourage contentment, efficiency, patriotism and pride among the boys and men serving in the navy," the proclamation reads. "They work untiringly and unselfishly in the naval and veterans hospitals throughout the country."

The local proclamation was in keeping with the national observance of Navy Mothers Day set for today also.

Drowns In Pool

AMARILLO, Aug. 2 (UP)—Jay Gelling, 30-month old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Gelling, drowned in Gem Lake, a privately owned public swimming pool, at noon today as her mother swam nearby without noticing the little girl was in the water.

A NEW NAME...AND WE'LL
GIVE THIS 14 FT. FAMILY
RUNABOUT AND 30 H. P.
JOHNSON TO THE PERSON WHO HELPS US FIND IT!

These Facts May Help You Pick A Name

1. We sell and service Ford cars and trucks, which are outselling all other makes.
2. We have locations at 1201 Louisville, Monroe and 102 Bridge, West Monroe for new and used units and a used car lot at 204 Washington, Monroe.
3. Ours is a volume dealership which has operated on theory—"Sell more units . . . take less profit on each". Year in-year out we sell more cars and trucks than any dealer of any make in this area.
4. For nine consecutive years we have been awarded Ford Motor Company's coveted Four Letter Award as an outstanding dealership. No other dealership in the New Orleans District has been so honored.
5. We are extremely proud of our communities and consider it a privilege to participate in all civic activities, support our schools and sponsor the American Legion baseball teams.
6. There are more than 100 employees in our organization, which represents an annual payroll in excess of $500,000.

Here Are The Owners

VAGIE A. RIVERS
President

J. H. "SLIM"
SCOGIN
Vice President

CHARLES E. BROWN
Treasurer

Mr. Rivers has been a partner of McCain-Richards, Inc. for the past eight years. Mr. Scogin joined the firm in August, 1953, and Mr. Brown became a partner this year.

IT'S FUN...THERE'S NOTHING TO BUY!
JUST COME IN AND GET ENTRY BLANK!

Here Are The Rules

- Anyone 21 years of age or older is eligible, except employees of McCain-Richards and their immediate families.
- Each person may only submit one entry.
- Names must be submitted on official entry blank which is available at McCain-Richards, 1201 Louisville, Monroe.
- All entries must be deposited in container at McCain-Richards, 1201 Louisville, Monroe. Each entry will be stamped in by time clock.
- Only one award will be made. In the event more than one person submits the name chosen, the entry bearing the earliest date and time will be declared the winner.
- No entries can be accepted after 9:00 p.m. Saturday, August 24.
- All entries and use of the names suggested shall become the exclusive property or rights of McCain-Richards, Inc. and/or its successors.
- Entries will be judged by the staff of Shell Advertising Agency, Monroe, Louisiana and their decision will be final.

AUGUST WILL BE OUR RECORD BUSTING MONTH

We are going to make August, 1957 the RECORD BUSTER for any month . . . any year, and it takes 133 new Fords to do it!
We Realize To Sell 133 New Fords During August
. . . We Must Give Longer Deals Than Ever . . .
